RESPONSIBILITY FOR VIOLENCE WILL FALL UPON LABOR LEADERS

Mayor Mitchel Warns Them He Will Employ "The Full Civil and Military Powers."

SAYS LAW MUST BE OBEYED

Declares Assaults and Crimes by Strikers Will be Punished With Utmost Vigor.

FINAL CONFERENCE FAILS

General Walk-Out in New York May Commence Today.

New York, September 21.—Labor leaders were given formal warning by Mayor Mitchel tonight that he would employ "the full civil and military powers" conferred upon him by law to prevent disorder, if the threatened general strike of trades unionists is called tomorrow to aid the street car employees who quit their places September 6.

The mayor's communication was addressed to Hugh Frayne, chairman of the conference committee of labor leaders, after a final effort to arrange a peaceful settlement had failed, and following the declaration that a general strike was inevitable.

The mayor made it plain that "for the union officials to call these strikes will be to assume responsibility for all that may follow."

To Discharge Full Duty.

"The mayor, representing the civil forces of government in this city," the letter declared, "feels it incumbent upon him to say to you now, before any further rash step is taken, that these duties (to enforce law and maintain order) the city government will discharge to the full, employing, if need be, its entire resources to that end. Disorder, assaults and crimes of violence, including injury to innocent citizens, such as those of Tuesday and Wednesday, will be suppressed with a strong hand and punished with all the vigor at the command of the government.

Cause of Crisis Reviewed.

The communication, which was concurred in by Oscar S. Straus, chairman of the public service commission, reviewed at length the cause which led to the present crisis. It stated that the Interborough Rapid Transit Company, which operates the subway and elevated lines, violated a verbal agreement with the labor leaders by refusing to arbitrate issues arising subsequent to the making of the agreement. It stated on the other hand, that the employes of the New York Railways Company and the other surface lines affected by the strike "were guilty of a breach" of contracts they had made with their employes which ended a tie-up on the surface roads in July.

The so-called final conference was attended by Mayor Mitchell, a citizen's committee and the labor leaders. It ended in a deadlock.

Walkout May Begin Today

Ernest Bohm, secretary of the Central Federated Union, later asserted that plans were completed for a sympathetic strike of 700,000 workers in other trades and that the "walkout" might begin tomorrow.

Meanwhile the state bureau of mediation and arbitration has sent notices to the leaders of the striking car men and the heads of the transit companies directing them to appear before the board Monday.

Theodore P. Shonts, president of the Interborough Rapid Transit and the New York Railways companies, issued a statement in which he declared that "no union men will be reinstated" by the Interborough. He said, however, that former employes on the surface cars of the New York Railways Company would be taken back, "provided they came free of unionism."

The Merchants' Association, at a meeting today, passed resolutions characterizing the attempt of the union leaders to effect a general strike as "a wanton disturbance of industry."

Appreciation of Loyal Employes

The association expressed its appreciation of the service rendered to the public of this city by those employes of the transit lines who are honorably carrying out their agreements.

Individual contracts between the transit companies and their employes biding the latter not to seek wage increases for two years, were upheld by the association.

Extra Precautions by Police.

The police took extra precautions tonight to prevent a recurrence of rioting which already has resulted in many innocent persons being hurt, considerable property damage and more than 370 arrests. It was said that the automobile patrons along the effected transit lines would be increased from 35 to 49 and the motor cycle squad from 60 to 100. There are 6,700 policemen on strike duty.

CAN PENNSYLVANIA BE WON TO WILSON?

Democratic Campaign Leaders Believe There is Chance to Capture Electoral Vote.

EIGHT-HOUR LAW A FACTOR

Chairman McCormick and A. Mitchell Palmer Confer at Philadelphia With Leaders From All Parts of the State.

Philadelphia, Sept. 21.—Leaders of the Democratic National campaign now believe that Pennsylvania is debatable and that there is a chance to secure the electoral vote of the state for President Wilson, according to Vance McCormick, the National chairman, and A. Mitchell Palmer, national committeeman from Pennsylvania, who conferred here today with prominent Democrats from all sections of the state.

The large number of railroad employes and others who favor the 8-hour law passed by Congress are among the reasons Mr. Palmer advanced for believing that the state may swing to the Democratic column.

PRESIDENT GATHERING DATA FOR CONDUCTING CAMPAIGN

Long Branch, N. J., Sept. 21.—Political conditions in Michigan and neighboring states will be the subject of a conference here tomorrow between President Wilson and Assistant Secretary Sweet, of the Department of Commerce, Democratic nominee for governor in Michigan. At Sweet's request the President will see him at 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. The conference will be the first of a series the President will hold with political leaders from different states.

Mr. Wilson spent part of his time today reading letters from Democratic leaders giving information on the local political candidates in every doubtful state. This information will be used by Mr. Wilson in planning his campaign. He is learning just what subjects need to be discussed most and is gathering information on the relative strength of the Republicans and Democrats in different parts of the country.

The President has outlined what he will say to the delegation of business men who will call on him at Shadow Lawan Saturday afternoon. According to his political lieutenants, it will be one of the most important speeches he will make in the campaign. He will discuss all phases of the administration's treatment of business.

CONFIDENT OF SOLVING THE MEXICAN PROBLEM

Commission, However Expects No Agreement This Week.

General Condition in Mexico Again Discussed—Subject of Withdrawal of American Troops is Talked Over

New London, Conn., Sept. 21.—Confidence in their ability to find a solution of the border and other problems in connection with the relations between Mexico and the United States characterized the attitude of the members of the Mexican-American joint commission today notwithstanding the virtual certainty that no definite agreement on any plan will be reached this week.

General conditions in Mexico were discussed again and the American members submitted more reports gathered by the State Department on conditions in Mexico. In a rather general way, the subject of with drawing the American troops was talked over, the Mexicans expressing their opinion that General Carranza's army was capable of coping with the situation in the region now patrolled by General Pershing's forces.

That the renewed activity of Villa in Chihuahua probably would delay an agreement on some plan of border control apparently was taken by the Mexicans as a matter of course. The Mexicans hope to have before the conference tomorrow official reports from their government which will serve as a basis for the argument that the attack on Chihuahua is not a true indication of the government's inability to maintain peace along the frontier.

DECLARES HUGHES IS FOR RAILROADS

Senator Reed, of Missouri, Replies to Republican Nominee's Attacks on 8-Hour Law.

CITES BILLS HE VETOED

Says If Hughes Had Had His Way Country Would Now be Engulfed in a Catastrophe That Would Appal the Imagination.

Springfield, Ill., September 21—United States Senator James A. Reed, of Missouri, in a speech here today at a state Democratic rally, replied to the attacks of Charles E. Hughes on the Adamson railroad law, declaring that Hughes generally had supported the railroads and that "if Hughes had had his way we would have been at this moment engulfed in a catastrophe so enormous as to appal the imagination."

Senator Reed charged Mr. Hughes with declaring "in substance and effect that union labor, like a highway with a pistol, approached Congress and compelled it to enact an 8-hour law, and that Congress in a cowardly and truculent manner surrendered the dignity of the nation to the unlawful and violent demand of labor."

"Naturally Mr. Hughes takes this view. It is the asseration of at least some railway presidents. It is not the first time Mr. Hughes has taken the side of the railroads."

Senator Reed then cited instances in which Mr. Hughes, he said, when governor of New York, had vetoed a two cent fare bill, a full crew bill and a five cent street car fare bill.

"What would Mr. Hughes have done if he had been President in this crisis?" asked Senator Reed.

The speaker reviewed the legislation of the Democratic administration. He concluded by saying:

"The country has peace at its borders and peace within its borders. Trains are running. People are going about their business. Everywhere there is prosperity and plenty of contentment. If Mr. Hughes had had his way we would have been at this moment engulfed in a catastrophe as enormous as to appal the imagination."

TWO PERSONS KILLED WHEN ENGINE STRIKES AUTOMOBILE

Miss Lucy Bullock and Frank Morton Lose Lives at Henderson, N. C.

Raleigh, N. C., Sept. 21.—Miss Lucy Bullock, of Drewry, Warren county, and Frank Morton, of Townesville, Vance county, were instantly killed tonight at Henderson, when a shifting engine on the Durham & Northern tracks drove a box car into a seven passenger automobile in which they were riding.

Mrs. James Bullock, mother of Miss Bullock, and Roy Rays, who was driving the automobile, escaped with bruises. Miss Bullock and Morton were on the rear seat. Hays seeing the train too late to stop his automobile put on full speed in the hope of clearing the track. The rear part of the automobile was struck, Morton and Miss Bullock being caught underneath and dragged twenty feet.

TAR HEEL TROOPS WILL BE ASSIGNED TO 7TH DIVISION

This Division at Present is Made up of Pennsylvania Guardsmen.

Harrisburg, Pa., Sept. 21.—Adjutant General Thomas J. Stewart, of Pennsylvania, today received a telegram from Major General Chas. M. Clement, commanding the 7th Division at El Paso, to the effect that the brigade of North Carolina infantry, company of engineers, field hospital company and ambulance company, will be assigned to the 7th Division. This division is made up of Pennsylvania troops.

SIX CENTS A LOAF

Prices of Bread Raised by One of Chicago's Largest Bakeries.

Chicago, Sept. 21.—The price of bread was raised from five cents to six cents a loaf by one of the largest baking firms in Chicago today. Other bakers are expected to follow. The advance was necessary, it was declared, because of the higher cost of materials and customers were advised that economy would be effected by purchasing the ten-cent loaves.

The advance is the result of a conference of bakers from all parts of the country which recently was held here to discuss the situation.

THREE YEARS FOR MERCHANT

W. L. Walker Convicted of Burning His Store—Appeals.

(Special Star Telegram).

Raleigh, N. C., Sept. 21.—A verdict of guilty was returned this afternoon against W. L. Walker, charged with burning his suburban store to collect excessive insurance. Judge Bond imposed a sentence of three years on the Wake county roads. There was notice of appeal and bond is $2,500, which Walker is undertaking to give.

Louisville, Ky., Sept. 21.—W. C. Johnson, of Memphis, defeated T. S. Davant, of Roanoke, Va., three up and two to play in the second round match play of the National Freight Traffic Association golf tournament here today.

SAYS POLICY WAS TO OUST HUERTA

Hughes Quotes "Instructions" Said to Have Been Given by President to John Lind.

MAKES A DOZEN SPEECHES

Republican Nominee, in One Address, Referred to the "Full Dinner Pail," and Gives European War Credit For It.

Richmond, Ind., Sept. 21.—Instructions said to have been given by President Wilson to John Lind, his personal representative in Mexico during Huerta's time, were cited in speeches by Charles E. Hughes, at Fort Wayne today and here tonight in support of Mr Hughes' denial that the administration sought to deal with small states in the same spirit as with large states.

"I have only recently received this authentic information of the actual instructions that were given with respect to the government of Mexico, such as Mexico then had," Mr. Hughes said. "John Lind was authorized by the executive to state this proposition to a minister of another government, namely: 'Huerta will be put out if he does not get out. That it is the preference of the President that it should be accomplished by domestic means, if possible, but that if it cannot be done by domestic means, other means adequate for the purpose will be resorted to.'

"There is no basis for that in the recognition of small states," Mr. Hughes added. "There is no basis for that in the recognition of the sovereignty of our neighbor. There is no basis for that in a true and correct American policy. We departed from an American policy and left our citizens to suffer from the barbarity which resulted when all government was destroyed and anarchy was supreme in Mexico. It is a deplorable recital."

In a dozen speeches today, most of them rear platform addresses of only a few minutes each, the Republican nominee for President outlined his views on Americanism, protection of American rights, the protective tariff, and other party policies. In one address, at Delphi, Mr. Hughes referred to "full dinner pail" placards plastered on bill boards at LaFayette by Democrats.

"As I was going through the streets of LaFayette," Mr. Hughes said, "I saw a campaign placard which had been put up by our friends on the other side. That placard bore the statement: 'No idle men. Plenty of work. A full dinner pail.'

"I thought what an extraordinary tribute to the memories of the American voters.' How was it in 1914 and in the early part of 1915, after the passage of the Underwood bill? Was there plenty of work? Were there then no idle men? Were there then full dinner pails?

"If we have no idle men today, it is not due to the policies of our friends on the other side but in spite of their policies and because of the European war."

Newport, R. I., Sept. 21.—Bishop Charles H. Brent, head of the Episcopal church in the Philippine Islands, declared in an address here today that if the United States withdrew from the islands Japan, in self-defense, would have to assume control.

INDICTED ON CHARGE OF MURDERING FIVE

Connecticut Woman is Remanded to Jail Without Bond.

She is Alleged to Have Poisoned Five Inmates of Her Home for Elderly People—The Bodies Were Recently Exhumed.

Hartford, Conn., September 21.—Mrs. Amy Harcher Gilligan, charged with poisoning five inmates of her home for elderly people, at Windsor, was indicted for first degree murder on five counts by the grand jury, late today. Mrs. Gilligan pleaded not guilty and was remanded to the county jail without bond for her appearance at the December term of the Superior Court.

The state alleged that Mrs. Gilligan poisoned the following persons:

Mrs. Maude Lynch, of Lakeville, on February 21, 1916; Franklin R. Andrews, of Cheshire, on May 30, 1914; Charles A. Smith, of Waterbury, on April 9, 1914; Michael W. Gilligan, second husband of the accused, on February 20, 1914, and Mrs. Alice Gowdy, of Hartford, December 9, 1914.

Mrs. Gilligan was arrested May last, specifically charged with the murder of Mr. Andrews, whose body had been secretly exhumed.

Since that time four other bodies have been exhumed, and the state alleges that evidence of a powerful poison was found in all the bodies. All the deaths occurred at the Archer home.

Most of the inmates were admitted to the home, the state claims, after contracts had been signed providing for life care upon payment of $1,000.

INTEREST IN THE WAR NOW TURNS TO RUSSO-RUMANIAN AND MACEDONIAN THEATRES

Teutons Claim Massed Attacks by Russians in the Lutsk Region Were Repulsed—Armies of Central Powers in Dobrudja Defeated and Forced to Retreat, According to Bucharest — Paris Claims Advances in Macedonia.

With the September rains still impeding the operations on the western front in France, interest in the world-warfare has been transferred to the Russian-Rumanian and Macedonian theatres, where violent fighting is in progress.

Probably the most sanguinary encounters have taken place along the 12-mile battle line in the region of Lutsk, Volhynia, where the Russians attacked repeatedly in mass formation, but only, according to both Berlin and Vienna, to meet with repulse and heavy casualties. The battle is still raging in the region of Kortniza and Sviniusky.

Germans Assume Offensive

To the north, along the Stokhod river, the Germans assumed the offensive against the Russians, but everywhere were repulsed, according to Petrograd. On the other hand attacks by the Russians against the Austro-Hungarians in the Narayuvka region of Galicia were put down by the defenders of the road to Lemberg. In the Carpathians both Berlin and Vienna concede that the Teutonic line east of the Panther Ridge, and near Briaza has been pushed back by the Russians.

Central Powers Retreating.

The German, Bulgarian and Turkish troops under Field Marshal von Mackensen have been defeated in the Rumanian province of Dodrudja, according to the official announcement from Bucharest. It is declared that the invaders have retired to the south and are burning villages in their retreat.

The great battle, which was the climax of von Mackensen's swift campaign in Dobrudja immediately after the declaration of war by Rumania, began on September 15 and ended, says Rumanian headquarters, on the 20th.

With reference to these operations Berlin merely says that "fighting in Dobrudja has come to a standstill."

Powerful Forces Employed

Rumanians, Russians and Serbians were pitted against the invaders, strong reinforcements having been hurried to Dubrudja when the operations under the noted German field marshal threatened to overwhelm a section of Rumania. A strong line to the north was hastily fortified and powerful forces were thrown out to oppose the onslaughts of the Central Powers. That the six days battle has been a sanguinary one is indicated by the various official statements which told of the intensity of the fighting that has continued without cessation.

On Macedonian Front.

In Macedonia, on the extreme western wing, the Entente forces have pushed their way three miles northwest of Pisoderi, according to Paris. Hard fighting for the Kaimakcalan plateau, on the Greek-Serbo border, northwest of Vodena, is in progress, but with neither side having been able to secure an advance. Sofia says that near Florina counter attacks by the Entente have been repulsed with heavy casualties and the capture of prisoners including Russians, and also machine guns.

Except for the repulse by the Italians of an Austrian attack south of Villanova, on the Carso front, there have been only bombardments in this region. Thursday on the front in France was without noteworthy incident.

Revolutionary Provisional Government

A revolutionary provisional government has been set up on the island of Crete, according to unofficial advices which add that a committee of revolutionists is to be sent to Saloniki. Former Premier Venizelos, while declining to say whether he purposes going to Saloniki to head the movement, reverted to his recent statement that "if the king will not hear the voices of the people, we ourselves must devise what it is best to do."

PLOT TO KILL EX-PREMIER VENIZELOS IS DISCOVERED

Milan, via London, Sept. 22—A Saloniki dispatch to the Secolo says:

"A conspiracy to kill Elipthelios Venizelos has been discovered with the result that the guard of Cretans about his house has been augmented and friends accompany the ex-premier when he goes out.

"Two lines of trenches have been built around King Constantine's palace which is constantly guarded by large forces."

KING CONSTANTINE IS NOT PRO-GERMAN, SAYS PREMIER

Athens, via London, Sept. 21.—Premier Kaloegeropoulos, speaking to the correspondent of the Associated Press with reference to the statement made by King Constantine recently to the Associated Press, in which the king outlined the reasons for his attitude in the war, said:

"Nothing could be more unjust to King Constantine than the persistent assertions that he is pro-German. He is pro-Greek, and only pro-Greek. He is the last man in Greece to be influenced in his motive by any prejudice or ready-made opinion, whatsoever."

"Are you on the side of the Entente, Mr. Premier, or not?" the correspondent asked.

"The Premier smiled, pushed across his desk a leather case containing fresh tobacco and French cigarette paper, with which he constantly rolls his own cigarettes.

"Tell the readers of the Associated Press that I have smoked French tobacco for 45 years," he replied.

MOST IMPORTANT MILITARY EVENT IN BALKAN CAMPAIGN

Athens, Sept. 20, via London, Sept. 21. —(delayed).—The Greek military officials regard the capture of the Kiamakcalan plateau by the Russo-Serbian troops as the most important military event in the Balkan campaign up to the present. The height, which is 7,-800 feet above sea level, lies in Serbian territory and constitutes the western door to Serbian Macedonia.

BIG RE-ORGANIZATION LOAN SOUGHT AY CHINA

Quintuple Group of Bankers Asked for $50,000,000.

Salt Monopoly Surplus Proposed As Security—Neither State Department Nor Chinese Legation Yet Advised.

Peking, China, Sept. 21.—Chen Chin-Tao, the Chinese minister of finance, today formally asked the quintuple group of bankers for a $50,000,000 reorganization loan on the security of the salt monopoly surplus. The quintuple group is composed of representatives of American, British, Russian, French and Japanese financiers.

NO ADVICES AS TO LOAN RECEIVED AT WASHINGTON

Washington, Sept. 21.—Neither the State Department nor the Chinese legation had been advised today of the proposed $50,000,000 reorganization loan to China, reporteds in news dispatches from Peking, but in both quarters keenest interest was expressed. The great obstacles to the regeneration of China is reported on all sides to be shortage of money for the ordinary expenses of the government, and for some time revolution has been feared unless foreign financial aid could be had.

The new administration under President Li Yuan Hung is believed here to have done much to consolidate the country and secure peace and it is felt that only a small loan is required to complete the work.

VILLA IS SAID TO HAVE LED ATTACK

Reported to Have Been Joined by About 1,000 Carranza Troops at Chihuahua City.

GENERAL BELL'S ACCOUNT

Says Important Buildings in the City Were Held For Several Hours. Great Quantity of War Supplies Captured.

Washington, Sept. 21.—The most detailed account yet received of the fighting at Chihuahua City last Saturday, when Villa celebrated the Mexican Independence day by a successful assault on the Carranza garrison, reached the War Department today from Brigadier General George Bell, commanding the El Paso military district. It asserts that Villa personally led the attacking forces; that he took and held numerous important buildings in the city for several hours; that he was joined by a thousand or more men of the Carranza garrison and retired, promising to return soon and taking with him a large quantity of captured arms, ammunition and artillery.

Source Not Given.

General Bell's dispatch does not show the source of his information, and many officials believe that his account of the incident was founded on rumors reaching the border, and were various stories which have been transmitted by State Department agents. They were inclined to believe for that reason that the full truth of what had transpire his not yet kown. Reports so far received are similar only in that they show a fight did occur on September 16 and that the Villa followers took the penitentiary and some other buildings. They all conflict as to the part Villa played, not even agreeing that he was present.

General Bell's report follows:

General Bell's Report.

"Evidence increases to show that Villa was completely successful in his attack Saturday upon Chihuahua and accomplished all and more than he said he would do. There is diversity of opinion and statements as to the number of men with which he entered Chihuahua. Some reports state he only had about 500 while others give him 1,700, but all agree that he was able to secure possession of the penitentiary, the governor's palace and the federal buildings and hold them for several hours, and all this with a Carranza garrison at Chihuahua, which some place at not less than 6,000. He liberated over 200 prisoners, secured and carried away more than 16 automobile loads of arms and ammunition under an escort of deserting Carranza troops. He left Chihuahua with from 1,000 to 1,500 more men than he entered with.

Villa Retired Leisurely.

"Villa retired leisurely and practically without molestation. The firing by Trevino's artillery occurred after Villa troops had withdrawn.

"On September 14 Trevino received a letter from Villa stating that he, Villa, would be in Chihuahua to shake hands with Trevino on the 16th and he hoped that he would have a suitable reception for him, that he might be hungry and would like to have something to eat.

"On the 15th of September it was reported that Villa personally entered Chihuahua, was seen by many of his friends there and reconnoitered the city. Of course, he was in disguise. On the night of the 15th the Villistas approached Chihuahua from a camp which he had maintained for two days within 22 miles of that city.

Made Brief Speech at Palace.

"After Villa columns had secured possession of the penitentiary, the governor's palace and federal buildings, Villa himself went to the governor's apalce, into the main balcony, displayed his face, and made a short speech which in substance was as follows:

"'Viva Mexico. You do not have your liberty. I will give you your liberty for I am your brother. I am going to return in a few days.'

"It appears that there had been a banquet attended by most of Trevino's officers and that about 2 o'clock this banquet was finished and most of the officers of the Carranza garrison were asleep.

"As soon as Trevino heard of the trouble, he started toward the governor's palace but his personal escort deserted him and wetn over to Villa.

"The party that attacked the federal building rode into the building on horseback and the guard there deserted to them. It is reported that many of the Carranza troops who were killedby other Carranza troops probably as a result of artillery firing from Santa Rosa Hill."

Reports Sent to New London.

All reports received are being forwarded to New London for the information of the Mexican-American commission. It is regarded as probable that an official version will be forwarded there soon by General Carranza.

Many army officers still believe that Villa is either dead or his powers so thoroughly broken that he could not hope to re-establish himself.

General Pershing expressed the latter opinion in a report to the War Department some weeks ago, and General Funston's recommendation that the American troops be withdrawn is believed to have been founded on that view. If General Bell's report proves accurate, however, and Villa did appear in person at Chihuahua, it is expected that the fact will be established definitely by witnesses whose evidence could be accepted without question.

It is thought unlikely that General Pershing's forces will be involved in any new fighting in Mexico, even if the most favorable account for Villa of the Detroit, September 21.—Boston made a clean sweep of the series with Detroit, winning today's game 10 to 2. Jennings used four pitchers but none of them were effective except DuBuc, who pitched the last inning. The result of the series assures Boston the American League pennant, apparently, as they have only one more series to play before the last seven games at home. Walker hit a home run in the first inning with one man on base. In the fourth he tripled, scoring Ruth and Janvrin, who had been passed. Hits in the fourth inning by Crawford, Heilman and Stanage enabled Detroit to score two runs. Local mid-week attendance records were broken by the series.

Have Virtually Clinched Pennants in Their Respective Leagues.

Chicago, Sept. 21.—Results today practically assure baseball fans that the world's championship series will be fought out this fall between Brooklyn Nationals and the Boston Americans. The former won today while its nearest rivals, Philadelphia and Boston, lost. The Philadelphians are now two and a half games behind and Boston four and one-half in the rear of the leaders. Brooklyn still has 14 games to play, one against St. Louis, six against Chicago, three against Philadelphia and four against New York. Philadelphia has remaining one game against Pittsburg, four against Cincinnati and three against Brooklyn and six against Boston, a total of 14. The National League standing:

Cincinnati, Sept. 21.—The National Baseball Commission today announced a decision awarding William Evans to the Pittsburg National League club. The Asheville club of the North Carolina League put in a claim for Evans' services, basing it on an oral agreement which provided that in case Evans played professional ball after leaving college, he would play with Asheville. The commission held that this agreement had never been offered for record, as provided for by the rules of organized baseball.

Will Be Allowed To Print Tickets

PRIVILEGE GRANTED THE THREE LEADING CONTENDERS IN THE AMERICAN AND NATIONAL LEAGUES.

Cincinnati, O., Sept. 21.—The three leading clubs in both the National and American Leagues were today notified by Chairman August Herrmann, of the National Baseball Commission, that they are privileged to have reserved seat tickets for the next world's series printed at once, if they desire to do so.

Owing to the possibility of a close race in both leagues which might continue until within a day or two of the final games in either league, it was thought best by the commission to allow the printing of the reserved seats in order to avoid delay that was almost certain to be caused by waiting for these tickets to be printed at the last moment.

The clubs notified today are: Boston Chicago and Detroit in the American League, and Brooklyn, Philadelphia and Boston in the National.

PRICES WOULD LIKELY BE THE SAME AS THOSE LAST YEAR

Boston, Sept. 21—World series games in this city, if the Boston Americans again win the right to represent their league in the post-season tests, probably will be played at Braves' Field, the local home of the National League, with seat prices the same as those of last year. Business Manager T. W. Lannin made this announcement today after the victory of the Red Sox over Detroit had increased the probability of Boston's retaining the American League championship.

The fact that final determination in the pennant race probably would not be made until a few days before the season closes might result in some change in the plans for the ticket distribution, he said. As now planned, tickets will be on sale at the club's offices, a few days before the series opens. Mail orders, Manager Lannin said, would have no standing.

Prices for the series were fixed by the National Commission today in a telegram authorizing the Boston club to proceed with arrangements for printing tickets. Box seats were set at $5 each, grand stand seats at $3.00 and pavilion seats at $2.00. All these will be reserved and are to be sold only for the entire series in each city. General admission will be one dollar and will be available only on the day of the game.

The National League grounds will seat approximately 42,000 persons while 33,000 is the capacity of Fenway Park, the American League quarters.

MAY COST MORE THIS YEAR TO WITNESS WORLD'S SERIES

New York, Sept. 21.—The cost of witnessing world series baseball will go up if Brooklyn wins the National League title, it was indicated here today by Charles E. Ebbets, president of the Brooklyn club.

The National Commission having authorized the three contenders in both the National and American Leagues to prepare world series tickets and arrange prices, the admission fees announced by Mr. Ebbets disclosed increases, for some of the seats, of 200 per cent over the prices which prevailed for last year's championship games in Boston.

Box seats will remain the same, at $5 but many of the reserved seats behind the boxes will sell for $5 instead of $3; and prices of unreserved bleacher seats will jump from fifty cents to $1.00 and $2.00.

THE BATTING LEADERS.

Tris Speaker made his 200th hit of the season Thursday and by securing a double and three singles in six times at bat apparently made certain his position as premier batsman of the American League for 1916. Cobb and Jackson, in second and third place, respectively, each failed to hit in four times up.

Chase, leading the National League, got two hits in four times at bat and gained a point. Wheat made one hit in three attempts, Daubert and Hornsby are tied for third place with a percentage of .312 each, the former having hit once in three times up and the latter twice in four times. Hinchman made three hits in four trials and gained three points. The standings:

THE ROYAL ARCANUM RATES

Grand Secretary Bonitz and Grand Chaplain Mendelsohn Declare New Rates Mean Greater Protection.

In view of the large number of members of the Royal Arcanum in Wilmington and vicinity interested in the adjustment of rates—particularly those applying to the older members of the order—Mr. H. E. Bonitz, Grand Secretary of North Carolina Council, was asked last night to explain further the motives that had prompted the managers to propose the new adjustment of rates, which is now giving the older members of the order so much concern. He said:

"The older members should consider that in their younger years they have accumulated no reserves wherewith to meet the higher mortality natural with advanced age. Hence higher rates are absolutely necessary to meet the maturing benefit certificates in that group.

"The average age of the members of the order is 46 years. In the city of Wilmington there are about 30 members of the order who are 60 years or over in age. It is apparent that the new rate affects most this group.

"I am a believer in fraternal life insurance because it conforms to the needs of the people, that is, to the young man as well as to the man of middle age, whose family needs protection.

"I could relate many instances where fraternal life insurance has been the only means of providing a home for the widow as well as preventing children from being sent to the orphan asylum.

"Members should come together and discuss the necessity of the change of rates and also seek information from the officers of their councils as to what change would be made in their assessments before arriving at a conclusion in the matter.

"More than a thousand members have died during the past 36 years, and hundreds of thousands have been paid the beneficiaries of the deceased brothers. Here in Wilmington more than 100 members have died and their beneficiaries have received over $300,000. Each of the councils in this city has a loan fund, and from this loan fund many a brother has been assisted in the payment of his dues and assessments.

"Those who question the future of Royal Arcanum do not appreciate the true import of its development. The Royal Arcanum is here to stay. It will continue to offer fraternal protection to the young men of our community. The change of rates that it, like other societies, is expanding and revamping its affairs so as to furnish its members protection on a still sounder and more stable basis."

Dr. Samuel Mendelsohn, Grand Chaplain for the State of North Carolina, was equally emphatic in his declaration that the new rates are essential and that they mean that the order is preparing to make itself more aggressively serviceable to its members and to humanity. When asked to discuss the new rates more in detail last night, he said:

"The higher rates for the older members are absolutely necessary to meet the maturing benefit certificates in that group. The Royal Arcanum has always met its bills promptly and has in addition $5,000,000 in bonds and stocks bearing interest and $6,000,000 in liens on benefit certificates, making a total of $11,000,000 in interest-bearing funds to meet emergencies. Surely in view of this fact the order cannot be considered in a serious condition financially. The organization is 39 years old and has met every obligation to date as it fell due.

"As I have stated before, the principal reason for the revision of rates is that the 'Mobile Law' has been adopted by 37 states and this law says in plain words 'We shall put you out of business and none of your beneficiaries will receive a dollar unless you comply with the laws governing fraternal insurance societies.' The officers of the Supreme Council are law-abiding citizens, and they have no desire to bring on a great legal fight which will mean a large expenditure of money so they, with some reluctancy, revised their rates in order to comply with the requirements of the 'Mobile Law.'"

VENIZELOS TO WAIT AND SEE WHAT GOVERNMENT WILL DO

Athens, September 20 (via London, September 21)—Eliptherios Venizelos, the former premier and Cretan statesman, was asked today as to the truth underlying the repeated reports that he is going to Saloniki to put himself at the head of a temporary revolutionary government, and, in reply, he declared to The Associated Press:

"I cannot answer now. I must wait a brief time yet, and see what the government proposes to do, before deciding on the course it will be best to adopt in the event that Greece does not enter the war.

"As I said on August 27, if the king will not hear the voice of the people, we must ourselves devise what it is best to do. I do not know what that will be, but a long continuation of the present situation would be intolerable. Already we have suffered all the agonies of a disastrous war, while remaining neutral.

"We even have more than an entire army corps of Greeks held prisoners of war in a foreign country, and already we have paid the Bulgars an immense war indemnity amounting in military equipment, property destroyed, and loot of Greek cities occupied, to more than $40,000,000. And, finally, we are perhaps on the verge of making war at last, that war which we have not fought but have paid for, in blood, tears and treasure."

TAKES OVER FIVE HOURS FOR TROOPS TO PASS IN REVIEW

El Paso, Texas, Sept. 21.—The war strength division review, which started on its march at 8 o'clock this morning, did not see the last of its units returned to the camp until a late hour tonight. After its long detour through the streets of El Paso it required five hours and 32 minutes for the line to pass the reviewing stand at Fort Bliss in which sat Major General C. M. Clement of the Pennsylvania guard in whose honor the review was tendered, and Brigadier General George Bell, Jr., U. S. A., commanding this district.

After passing the stand the men were massed in close formation shoulder to shoulder and file against file forming a solid mass of human fighting material 1,200 yards long and 400 yards deep, covering a space of 101 acres. Brigadier General C. G. Morton, U. S. A., commanded the troops.

ALRIDGE SAYS HIS WIFE HAS GAINED 15 LBS. ON TANLAC

Had Suffered For Ten Years. He Says: "Now There Is Such a Change That Friends Hardly Know Her."

If a person has reason to be thankful for Tanlac, that person is Mrs. Lucy Ellen Alridge. Why she is happy is explained in the following story offered by her husband, W. C. Alridge:

"My wife suffered for over ten years from indigestion, which often took on an acute form, during which times she would come near death. She got so bad that solid foods of every sort were out of the question. Mrs. Alridge was so nervous that the slightest noise would make her jump. Night after night she would lay awake—sleep refusing to come—and she suffered from constant and severe pains in the side. Although she was prescribed for and had tried everything we heard of, she kept getting worse and worse. When we heard about Tanlac, Mrs. Alridge was very weak and unable to do any housework at all.

"The first bottle of Tanlac made a change in her condition, and now, after taking three bottles of it, there is such a change that her friends hardly know her. Why, she is hungry for every meal and eats anything she likes without having any trouble afterwards. The pains in her sides have left and she is not nervous. It would take some noise to make her jump now. She is able to work again, and gets good, healthy, refreshing sleep and has gained 15 pounds. We are delighted to tell others about Tanlac," ended Mr. Alridge, who is a well known resident of High Point.

NOT A VOICE RAISED TO DEFEND OLD BANKING SYSTEM

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Fayetteville, N. C., Sept. 21.—When a Democratic congress came to revise the banking system of this country not one voice was raised in all the land to defend the financial system which the Republican party had kept on the country for forty years, declared Hallett S. Ward, of Washington, D. C., to a Fayetteville audience Tuesday night, in a brilliant campaign speech for the Democratic party. Mr. Ward poured hot shot into the Republican party's banking system, under which the business of the country had labored for two-score years, and it was greatly enjoyed by his hearers. He said that under the old system a telephone message to the financial district of New York that J. P. Morgan had an acute attack of colic could produce a near panic in this country.

Despite the fact that he necessarily paid a good deal of attention to Wall Street, Mr. Ward's speech was altogether different from the usual run of campaign appeals. It was carefully thought out and the arguments followed each other in a skillfully logical sequence. It was marked by restraint rather than exurberance, but was alive with force and glowed with eloquence. Humanitarianism was its keynote. The Democratic administration of both State and Nation, he declared, was in touch with the soul of the people.

DAVIDSON MEN IN SERVICE

(Special Star Correspondence).

Davidson, N. C., Sept. 21.—Dr. John Wilson McConnell, who for the past few months has been stationed as a member of the hospital corps at Camp Glenn, has been on the hill for the past few days. He was here on a short visit as he has not yet left regular service and while here was looking after a few matters in connection with the college and otherwise.

Dr. McConnell will move with the North Carolina men to the border in a few days and left here Wednesday evening to join the others of his company. Working in the same division as Dr. McConnell is Walker Porter, who would have graduated this coming May had it not been for this service. In the engineering corps the student body has another representative in the person of David G. Worth, a member of the class of '18. From the class of '17 is D. R. Nimocks, who is a sergeant in the Kinston company and is a brother-in-law to Captain Twining's daughter, who lives on North Fourth street, Wilmington.

GREATER ELASTICITY IN THE TARIFF WILL BE NECESSARY

Committee Investigates Foreign Trade Aspects of System.

New York, Sept. 21.—Greater elasticity in the country's tariff system is necessary to meet trade conditions that will arise at the close of the European war, according to a report submitted to the national foreign trade council today by a committee which has investigated the foreign trade aspects of the tariff.

The committee's report called attention to the readjustment of the tariff relations at the close of the conflict and the possibility that the present belligerents will seek reciprocal tariff concessions from one another and from neutrals.

This Store a Local Institution

"Buy at Home"

Every town has a cancer in its side, which is eating the very life blood from the community. This disease is the Mail Order Business that goes out of the town to the larger cities.

Shop in Wilmington.

Every dollar that leaves this city for merchandise goes to build another city, and this loss is as much the individual's as it is the community's.

One thing that we wish to impress upon all is that the Bon Marche is NOT of the Chain Store type, nor a branch of any other establishment, though it is owned by the same firm that conducts the Bon Marche of Asheville.

The Bon Marche is a Wilmington institution. Its future is linked with that of the city. We want you to feel that it is your store; to come and go; to meet and talk with your friends; and when it is opened it will be an establishment that you may point to with pride and say that now Wilmington has a Department Store that is without a superior in North Carolina, and with very few equals in the South.

Therefore, we say, "Buy in Wilmington." If you can't be pleased at the Bon Marche, buy from some other store in the city, but, whatever you do, BUY AT HOME. It will cut down the tax rate, build more parks and public buildings, and assure prosperity for all.

Let's get together.

JURY FROM ROBESON HEARING CASE IN CUMBERLAND COUNTY

(Special Star Correspondence).

Fayetteville, N. C., Sept. 21.—With a jury drawn from Robeson county, the case of the International Harvester Co. vs D. W. Carter, which has attracted a good bit of attention owing to a sensational incident which caused a mistrial at the March term, went into its second trial in Cumberland Superior court today. The witness, a former employe of the Harvester Company, who caused all the trouble in March by testifying to the opposite of what the defendant's lawyers expected him to do, has not been put on the stand and nothing out of the ordinary has happened.

It is thought that the case will go well into Friday. The Harvester Company is sueing Carter on notes for the value of a tractor, and did not take long to get its evidence in, but the defendant's development of testimony, designed to show that the tractor is a disappointment, is voluminous.

TOP O' THE MORNING.

The supreme need of the hour is not elastic currency, or sounder banking, or better protection against panics, or bigger navies, or more equitable tariffs, but a revival of faith, a return to a morality which recognizes a basis in religion.

After several rounds of drinks a fellow is apt to take a zig-zag course across a square.

The issue in the South Carolina primary was anxiety over a threatened knock-out blow to "liberty."

We heard a street argument the other day between the wise and the otherwise. The listeners were the innocent by-standers.

Inasmuch as North Carolina troops are to be sent to the Mexican border, Villa had better get busy and keep out of their way.

All men bleat when others get their goat, but it is a rare species of the genus homo who makes a charitable institution of his business.

As a general thing, the defeated candidates in Georgia will find out that most of the people in other states consider it a shame that they were beaten.

Congressman Frank Clark, of Florida, is being opposed by Hon. Francis Cofin. If there is anything in a name, all that the Hon. Clark will have to do is to spring a grave issue on the Hon. Cofin.

An eel is a slippery article, but the Roosevelt candidate for president is so slick that he has slipped the hyphenism issue entirely into the hands of the Colonel. Maybe he thinks he will slip one over on the German vote.

A Cornell professor is going all over the country investigating eggs. He finds chickens in many eggs, but the main thing he finds is that there is money in them at the present price. This from the standpoint of the seller, of course.

Judge Hughes has been complaining about what President Wilson does, but the Republicans are complaining because Hughes depends too much on complaining without explaining what he would do in order to give some satisfaction himself.

Having gone Republican, no well regulated Democrat will deign to look upon Maine as of sufficient importance to entitle her to be longer regarded as a national barometer. Maine brought it all on herself by making a poor showing for herself as a political example for other states. It's all off for Maine.

When you raise objections to the motion before the house offer a substitute of your own so those present can decide between the merits of the two. Judge Hughes does not follow that rule, but every man should either shoot or give up his gun. The Judge opposes all propositions but he fails to offer others in their stead. If anybody has one of his propositions, we would be awfully tickled to get it.

A number of contemporaries express indignation over the fact that Japan is taking advantage of China because of her weakness. Japan is only doing what all the other nations do. When they pick out a nation of which they desire to take advantage, she has to be weak, else they would not want to waste time on her. What is happening to China would happen to the United States if we were content to let her be a bag of wind as in the days of Republicanism.

BRUNSWICK TO HAVE FAIR

The people of Brunswick county are to be congratulated upon their decision to have a county fair at Bolivia, November 3rd and 4th, at which will be exhibited displays of agricultural and trucking products. This county has great resources within its borders and there is no better way to exploit them than by getting the people together at a central location to see what their neighbors have done and are planning to do.

Immediately preceding the county fair there will be a series of community fairs in the different townships at which will be shown exhibits by individual farmers and growers. These exhibits will then be brought together at the county fair and later on practically all of them will be brought to Wilmington to be displayed at the Corn Show. This is an admirable plan and one that should bring gratifying results.

Mr. Jackson Johnson, that enterprising and progressive citizen, who lives at Winnabow, has been elected president of the fair association. No more competent or public-spirited man could have been chosen for this position and his leadership insures success. Mr. R. T. Melvin, farm demonstrator for Brunswick county, will be general manager. He is a young man who is doing things in Brunswick and he has been instrumental during his term of office in greatly encouraging agricultural development beyond the Cape Fear.

Mr. Johnson and Farm Demonstrator Melvin were in Wilmington yesterday completing arrangements for the county fair. They met with much encouragement from the citizens on whom they called. They will also be in Wilmington today. They are just now preparing a premium list which will later be published in pamphlet form for distribution.

Brunswick can be depended upon to do her part towards the upbuilding of Eastern North Carolina. Her people are wide awake and are going ahead building roads, establishing schools and developing all phases of progressive community life. Our hats are off to these enterprising citizens who are keeping step with the onward march of progress.

THE WILMINGTON-GOLDSBORO HIGHWAY

The Warsaw rally on Wednesday in the interest of the Wilmington-Goldsboro Highway was a start in the right direction. A number of Wilmington road enthusiasts met the boosters of the intervening sections and henceforth the movement for a highway from Wilmington to Goldsboro ought to be accelerated.

The reason why the road should be built and built at once is that it is an economic need for the people of Pender, Duplin, Wayne and New Hanover counties. It is needed for practical and developmental purposes over and beyond all the purposes for which a modern highway is intended. Therefore, all the people of the four counties along the proposed highway should get a hunch on them and get into immediate touch with the constructive proposition that was so interestingly discussed by the enterprising men who gathered at Warsaw.

The highway spirit ought to loom up large along the route through the resourceful counties of Pender, Duplin and Wayne. New Hanover already has her part of the highway in use to the dividing line at the Northeast river, where a fine steel bridge connects New Hanover and Pender. Of course, the New Hanover section of the highway is ready for business, but Duplin, Wayne and Pender have to get busy and get in on one of the worthwhile highways of the State.

The Star knows that the highway is a necessity for the intervening counties because it quizzed a Wilmington booster wh oobserved the condition of the ordinary trail that extends most of the way through Pender and Duplin. From the Northeast bridge to Burgaw the dozen automobiles which went from Wilmington got along fairly well, but beyond the Pender county seat there was all sorts of a road that stalled the autos and staggered the boosters. The trail was full of holes and rough places and the sand and boggy stretches were irksome to negotiate. The bridges were bad and over many branches there were no crossings at all. Bogs, sand, holes, bumps and water made it a tough proposition for machine travel.

The best evidence of the fact that the road is needed lies in the fact that the return trip required four hours. However, the automobiles made 35 miles an hour on the nine miles stretch of modern highway in the great county of New Hanover. On the upper end of the trail, however, the speed was from 10 to 15 miles an hour, which shows that a hundred per cent loss is met with as to mileage and time. That is sheer economic waste to that extent so far as ordinary travel is concerned.

Fancy what the waste is for the farmers who have to haul their produce through sand and holes and bogs and water! Wagons can carry neither a full load nor can they make time, not to mention the vehicle and animal wear that is bound to result. The farmers of Pender and Duplin are losing time and money, and their loss during a season surely constitutes a burdensome mud tax. They can't afford to do rural hauling on such an expensive road. They cannot afford to do without the highway any longer. They are losing money at every haul and at every turn in trying to use bad roads in their business. A modern road would be cheap for them, compared with the expensive excuse for a road that they are compelled to travel at any cost.

That "any cost" is what ruins all all of us if we do not get rid of it in our business. The farmers certainly ought to arouse themselves in their own interest and demand a good traffic road all the way through Wayne, Duplin and Pender to Wilmington. The high cost of road traffic unnecessarily results from a hundred per cent loss in lightness of load and all sorts of per cent in the loss of a better opportunity for the success of their farms. They toil too hard to produce something only to drag their products to market at a serious loss of time to reach to market and in the light load problem that is theirs. It is a lamentably expensive drag and it is to their interest to get busy and eliminate it in order to save time and money.

It is to the interest of Goldsboro and Wilmington to get in highway touch with their trade territory. These cties can't build up on the inside if they do not build up the outside. We have got to build up the outside from the inside and build up the inside from the outside if we expect to develop all along the line and at both ends of it as well as in the middle. This Wilmington-Goldsboro Highway is a constructive proposition and we had better seize on to it and do business. When we are slow it is a bad sign. It is a sign that we ave neglectful and positively negligent.

JUSTICE IS ETERNAL.

A country which had to depend on its ordinary banking system when the European war broke out is still in a state of collapse. Is it on account of the world war? No. It is because its banking system failed to meet such an exigency, such an emergency as war between two-thirds of the people of the world. That country had the products which Europe needed to carry on the war, but its banking system was not able to meet the demand to handle its products, take care of the difficulties that arose on account of foreign exchange, and the inability of its system to finance ocean carrying and to provide insurance for cargoes that had to be sent out on the ocean at great hazard. It wasn't a matter of production, for there was plenty. It was a matter of money with which to move commerce and take advantage of the great demand in Europe.

Is the war in Europe responsible for the failure of that country to be making money out of the war? No. On the contrary, the war has created a heavy demand and it ought to make that country prosperous. It has largely made our own country prosperous, so why does it not make that country prosperous also? The same rule ought to apply to that country as it does to this, but it doesn't.

Why? Because the genius of this country was able to cope with the war situation by means of a new financial system and legislation that aided commerce. The money was provided to move cotton and wheat and foodstuffs and munitions of war, but, even at that, shipping was scarce and insurance of ships and cargoes was so high that it threatened to bring the shipping industry to a standstill. In fact, marine insurance could not he had in this country when the commerce destroyers were smashing things on the ocean or liable to smash them at any time. With money to move commerce, there was yet lacking the freight facilities and cargo sceurity on the ocean.

The genius of this country met both situations, but it took a reasonable time to do it. It was done, however, and business and commerce went forward by leaps and bounds. Didn't it, old top? Sure! You know it did. Business and commerce are still moving because exigencies were met and the emergency was soon tided over. They were tided over with money and legislation. "Money makes the mare go," and it was needed to make business and commerce go. Of course, that all goes, for everybody knows that.

Nevertheless, the very first thing that it was necessary to mobilize was this country's genius to meet emergencies and exigencies in order to prove itself equal to a very difficult and horribly distressing situation. We had the genius, however, and it was on the job at Washington. That genius was centered in Woodrow Wilson and a Democratic Congress. They were cocked and primed, and, brushing opposition and squirmers aside, they provided the country with a banking system and national marine insurance and all the machinery of administrative wisdom and efficiency was set to work to meet a situation that was at first appalling and which at first blush paralyzed the whole country and all its agriculture, commerce and industries. We all know that is true. The war literally paralyzed the South and we all know it and we yelled "buy a bale," even in spite of our judgment, for our heads were up in the air and nowhere to go.

Huh! Our real head was at Washington and the big think was in the White House and the wisdom which went to the support was in a Democratic Congress. Team work began in a jiffy, characterized by statesmanship and efficiency and capability for doing things and doing them right when they were needed in all this country's business. The Democratic administration did that right in the face of the most monstrous war and in the midst of the greatest economic and commercial upheaval of all history, and yet Judge Hughes is telling the country that it had better put the administration back into the hands of the Republicans to keep it from going to pieces after the war.

Isn't that an absurd idea? It is not only absurd but it is ridiculous. When an administration could handle such a studenpous emergency as this country faced at the beginning of the war, wouldn't it be the sheerest nonsense to even suspect it of being incapable of taking care of the little old afterclaps and emegencies after all the big eruption is over? An administration which handled a volcano while it was in eruption certainly can do business for it after it quits vomiting fire and brimstone. Isn't it ridiculous to hear an anti-Wilson man emitting nonsense?

Why should any man of common sense fear a Democratic administration after this? It has not only shown us but proved to us what it has done and can do, and it would be a very foolish country that would want to install talk at Washington in the place of achievement. Not a soul on earth can deny that achievement and get away with it for a minute. The opponents o the Wilson administration glibly declare that our prosperity, which all have to acknowledge, is due to the war, but everybody knows that the demand on us is due to the war, while they ought to know also that Wilson's banking system and Democratic legislation gives us the money with which to move what we have to sell and get it to market so it will bring the price which makes us prosperous. Take away the means of doing business and what could we do to meet the demand? We would be like the country which has no financial system adequate to do its business.

The fact is the old Republican financial system was not equal to the emergency. Under it loans were called in, money stringency was created and the Wilson administration had to get busy with government money first and with the Reserve Bank system as quick as possible, and, lo and behold, we were then enabled to sell and move cotton tobacco, wheat, foodstuffs and munitions. Wilson administration insurance enabled all these things to go to Europe so that money could come from the war countries and go into our pockets. When the war first broke out cotton went all to pieces, yet Great Britain, France, Germany, Russia, Italy, Holland and Scandinavia wanted and needed our cotton. We could not get it to them, but there was a way and it was the way of the Wilson administration.

Therefore, we know that the war can be given credit for creating the demand on us but to a Democratic administration we are bound to honestly give the credit for enabling us to supply that demand with our cotton and tobacco and whatever else the European market called for. If we do not want to give President Wilson and a Democratic Congress all the credit that is due to them for making prosperity possible by enabling us to do business, it is because we are mean enough to turn our backs on justice and face the other way. How can we honestly get around our obligations to the great Democratic administration? We can do it only by rocking the boat with ourselves in it.

At the beginning of the war this country was without an adequate banking system. The prevailing system flunked on us at the first roar of the guns of the world war. We now have a complete banking system that defies the world upheaval and assures our prosperity.

Justice is eternal! How can we avoid our opportunity to do eternal justice in this presidential campaign? You know!

PROSPERITY MADDENS THEM

We notice a remarkable difference between "temporary prosperity" under the Wilson administration and the years of absolutely suspended prosperity when Roosevelt was president. We always rejoice when the country happens to be prosperous under Republican administrations, but prosperity while the Democrats are at the helm seems to provoke and annoy the Republicans. The reason for that is that Democratic prosperity is absolute proof that Republican calamity howlers used to pass off bunk as prophecy.

CURRENT COMMENT.

The older inhabitants remember Mr. Thomas J. Darlington, who for many years was the editor of the Leaksville Gazette. He died Monday at the ripe old age of 75. Mr. Darlington was one among the first editors we met in North Carolina 25 years ago. His son, a printer, has long been at Wilmington. —Greensboro Record.

"Democratic extravagance and inefficiency" is the charge of Republican spellbinders of North Carolina with reference to our schools. The rottenness of such a charge is shown by the results and the increasing spread of education in North Carolina. The truth is that the only hope of the Republicans is in the ignorance of the people. Down in their hearts they are opposed to moonlight schools for the adults, for the more the people are educated the more Democrats there are.—Raleigh News and Observer.

The confidence with which North Carolina's commissioner of agriculture speaks of the possibility of demonstrating that the cultivation of indigo in the State can be placed on a practical and profitable basis augurs well, not only for the development of a new industry in Carolina, but for the success of the movement to render American textile manufacturers independent of the outside world in the matter of dyestuffs. If indigo can be profitably grown in North Carolina, there is no reason why it can not be grown just as profitably in other Commonwealths in the South. If and when Carolina succeeds in pointing the way, it is a safe assumption that other states will not be slow to follow.—Norfolk Virginian-Pilot.

DR. POE FOR FOUR AMENDMENTS

I am heartily in favor of every one of the proposed constitutional amendments.

The first one though entitled "Restricting Local, Private and Special Legislation," should really be entitled "An Act to Enlarge Local Self Government." The plan is simply to give the people of the counties authority to settle for themselves hundreds of matters about which they are now compelled to wait on the Legislature for action.

I am also in favor of the second amendment which would authorize the Legislature in its wisdom to work out some plan to save the state and its citizens from loss of time and money when sickness prevents a regular judge from holding court.

As Dr. Kemp Battle well says: "No business man stops his operations because of the sickness of his manager, when a substitute can easily be found." No less valuable are the third and fourth amendments which would prevent special charters to corporations, cities and towns, but would provide instead one general law for all such charters, thereby insuring "equal rights to all and special privileges to none."

HEALTH IS WEALTH
by John B. Huber, A.M., M.D.

An essential step toward good health is freedom from constipation.

Diet After Weaning.

BABIES are, or ought to be, weaned about the twelfth month; or if their first year of life terminates in hot weather, especially in cities, the weaning may be delayed until the fall. Many such infants are then seriously handicapped, are exposed to great danger and other digestive diseases under the mistaken impression that the weaning period is suitable for the introduction into the child's diet of general table food. Salt pork, pickles and the like have been given little children with fatal results. The following are about the right bills of fare for the periods stated:

A diet suitable for a child of 12 to 18 months: 6:30, cereal, strained, and milk; 10:30, milk and zwieback; 1:30, broth, chicken, rice or macaroni, bread, milk; 5:30, cereal, milk, apple sauce.

A diet suitable for a child of 2 to 4 years: Breakfast, cereal, an egg (boiled), bread, butter, milk; dinner, meat, potato, green vegetable, bread, butter, dessert (custard); supper, cereal, milk, crackers, fruit (apple, baked).

A diet on which a boy of nine years, weighing 66 pounds, thrived: Breakfast, toast (3 pieces), butter (½ ounce), cereal (3 ounces), 1 egg, sugar (¼ ounce), cocoa (a cupful); dinner, a cup of broth, meat (2 ounces), a green vegetable (3 ounces), rice (3 ounces), bread (2 slices), butter (½ ounce), dessert (custard, 4 ounces); supper, toast (3 slices), one egg, butter (½ ounce), milk (a tumblerful), a baked apple. (One level teaspoonful equals half an ounce).

Other good foods for children are: Cane sugar, cream, fruit pulp, mashed vegetables, clear soups, puree of vegetable, fish, oysters, lamb, veal, gelatin, beef, turkey, mutton, chicken, squab, beans, oatmeal, graham flour, Boston crackers, peas, graham bread, cornmeal, wheat bread, barley, macaroni, arrowroot, sago, dates, tapioca, molasses, figs, corn, green peas, spinach, stewed fruits, string beans, onions, peaches, pears, tomatoes, cranberries, chocolate, bacon fat, cocoa.

Here are forbidden foods for the nursery: Ham, sausage, pork, salt fish, dried beef, corned beef, goose, duck, broiled or stewed kidneys, liver and bacon, stewed liver, gravies (except dish gravy), baked tomatoes, pickled beets, fried potatoes, carrots, pastries, griddle cakes, fresh bread, meat or fruit pies, rich cakes, hot biscuit, meat stews, raw celery, raw or fried onions, radishes, cucumbers, muffins, doughnuts, preserves, canned fruits, tea, coffee, liquors (unless indicated by the doctor).

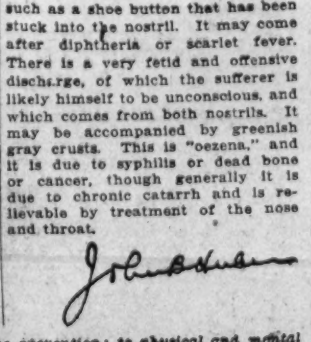
NERVOUS HEART.

S. N. writes: What is meant by a nervous enlarged heart? I have an enlarged heart and would like to know the difference.

Answer: A heart may be temporarily enlarged by reason of emotion or other great nervous stress. Except when there has been a profound shock such a heart will return to the normal size. A heart may be otherwise enlarged from rheumatic disease, gout, chronic kidney disease, lead poisoning, persistent overaction (as in goitre or in the tea, coffee or alcohol habits); also excessive eating and drinking (especially beer drinking) prolonged and severe muscular work and intense and abrupt strain.

NASAL DISCHARGES.

Answer to D. O. B.: Offensive discharges from the nose may be due in children to a foreign body such as a shoe button that has been stuck into the nostril. It may come after diphtheria or scarlet fever. There is a very fetid and offensive discharge, of which the sufferer is likely himself to be unconscious, and which comes from both nostrils. It may be accompanied by greenish gray crusts. This is "oezena," and it is due to syphilis or dead bone or cancer, though generally it is due to chronic catarrh and is relievable by treatment of the nose and throat.



This column is devoted to disease prevention; to physical and mental hygiene; to domestic, industrial and public sanitation; to the promotion of health; efficiency and long life. The latest developments in medical science will be presented. Questions of general interest will be answered here, space permitting—all others by mail if stamped return envelope is enclosed. Requests for personal diagnosis or treatment cannot, however, be considered in any way.

LOCAL NEGROES LURED NORTH BY BIG WAGES

Carload Left Last Night to Work for New York Central R. R.

Hundreds of Others Disappointed When Left Behind—Foreman Roosa Tells of Labor Scarcity of Longshoremen in City.

"We could have gotten 500 laborers here in Wilmington just as easy as a carload," declared General Foreman J. D. Roosa, of the New York Central Railroad Company, at Weehawken, N. J., last night to a representative of The Star, just before the train carrying 50 colored laborers, pulled out of the station for New York.

"Our company has a thousand freight cars backed up in the yards at Weehawken, opposite New York City right now, and more coming in constantly, and we haven't near enough longshoremen to unload them," he added. "These laborers I am taking off tonight will be used to replace the Austrians and Italians who have hitherto done this class of work, but who are now fighting their countries' battles in Europe. These 50 laborers will be used in unloading and loading westbound freight cars and also barges for the export trade.

"They will receive 22 cents an hour for a 10-hour day, and 33 cents an hour on Sundays and holidays. None of them will be used as strike breakers for the very good reason that there is no strike on among our employes. They will be quartered in our yards at Weehawken in old train coaches—we have about 50 of them—which have been fitted up as sleeping quarters with 14 beds to a coach, all of which have steam heat. We also have shower baths for them and dining cars, which will furnish them meals at about $2 a week.

"I should say about 25,000 negro laborers have been imported into and around New York City within the past four months. Most of them have been secured in the South. We got about 400 at St. Louis, Ky., last week and large numbers in Charleston and Baltimore. Every railroad with terminals in New York is up against a stiff proposition owing to the scarcity of labor.

"We pay the highest rate for longshoremen of any of them. I am not a labor agent, being regularly in the employ of the company on a salary. I have warned every one of the men on this car that if they were under contract, we did not want them, and they have all assured me that they had nothing to do. I have not asked anyone under contract to leave his employment. I have carefully consulted with the local authorities as to the law and have paid a revenue tax of $100 to the county and $100 to the State. The transportation of the men will cost us about $12.54 each."

The majority of the laborers are natives of Wilmington, where their wages when they can get regular or casual employment ranges from $1.25 to $1.50 per day. A few of them are negroes who have come into the city within the past few weeks from South Carolina. One of them stated to the reporter that he had a family at Marion, that he had been in Wilmington two weeks, and although he had made about $14 in that time he could get no steady job here.

Mr. Roosa stated that when he went out to Sixth and Nixon streets Wednesday night on a scouting expedition, there was a crowd of between 600 and 800 negroes who wanted to go. Many of them begged him to take them along, saying that their families were hungry and they couldn't get work. He stated that the laborers that his company has employed in the South are all well treated and satisfied, and that with good wages many of them already had bank accounts of from $50 to $70 representing savings. Eventually these men will come back to Wilmington to spend their savings, he added.

PAYS HIGH TRIBUTE

Kinston Paper Tells of Life of Mr. J. P. Brogden, Deceased.

The Kinston Free Press in the following article pays a high tribute to the life and character of the late Mr. J. P. Brogden, who died at his home there Monday morning and who was well known in Wilmington.

"Mr. Brogden was 73 years of age, and was born May 1, 1843, in Granville county. He served during the last year of the War Between the States in the commissary department of the Confederate States army, and after being discharged located at Trenton, where he engaged in the mercantile business and prospered. At one time he conducted the largest mercantile business in Jones county. He was twice married there, the first time to Miss Hannah Wilcox, and the second to Miss Laura Pritchett, who survives him. Mrs. Brogden is a daughter of the late Sheriff Pritchett, of Jones. Also surviving are the following children: Miss Nettie Brogden, of Virginia, sas; Miss Nettie Brogden, of Virignia, and Thomas B. Brogden, of New Bern, by his first wife, and Mrs. Helen Maloney, of Wilmington; Mrs. Elliott Jones and Murphy and Nelson Brogden, of Kinston.

"Mr. Brogden was a man of excellent character, a good mixer and popular. He had resided here for a number of years. He is prominently connected upstate.

"The remains will be taken at 8 a. m. Tuesday to Cove City, where relatives and friends will meet them and accompany the body and family to Trenton, where at 11 o'clock the funeral will be conducted by Rev. John H. Griffith, rector of St. Mary's Episcopal church, this city."

LANDS BIG DRUM

Mrs. T. A. Underwood, while fishing off Carolina Beach pier Wednesday afternoon, landed a big drum after a hard fight, which tipped the scales at 28 1-2 pounds. This is the largest fish caught by a woman this season in this vicinity, and one of the largest caught by anyone.

The other members of the party, who returned to the city by automobile shortly after 1 o'clock yesterday morning, consisted of Messrs. T. A. Underwood, Horace King and C. F. Howell. About 18 fish were caught in all by other members of the party, many of which were big ones.

BRIDGE ADVOCATES HAVE NOT LOST HOPE

New and Revised Plans to be Submitted to the Government.

Determined to Have Better Transportation Facilities Across the Cape Fear—Convinced Bridge is The Only Solution.

Advocates of a bridge across the Cape Fear river at the foot of Market street have neither lost hope of getting what they feel is necessary for the future growth and prosperity of the city and the entire surrounding section, including that large and fertile portion of earth known as Brunswick county, nor are they sleeping, even though the government engineers have turned down the plans that were submitted recently.

New and revised plans for a bridge with a wider draw and for a higher elevation will be prepared within a short time and as soon as this is done, the government engineers will be asked to pass on them. The building of a bridge across the river at this point is not considered by any means an impractical proposition by those behind the movement. However, there are some who feel that it could be placed either higher up the river or further down and still serve for all practical purposes as well as at the foot of Market street.

Mr. W. D. MacMillan, Jr., chairman of the special bridge committee of the Chamber of Commerce, who as a member of the Board of County Commissioners was largely responsible for submitting the plans to the government engineers, said yesterday that in his opinion a ferry would never prove satisfactory for the reason that it is important to provide a ready means of access to the west side of the river, if that side is ever to be built up. The center of business would still continue to be on the east side, he pointed out, as is the case at present, even though there should be a great development on the opposite side.

Chairman W. A. McGirt, of the Board of Commissioners, champion of an improved ferry, has announced his intention of urging that steps be taken immediately toward securing better service across the river. He is convinced that a bridge at the present time would be an impracticable proposition and that a ferry furnishes the solution.

While the question of bridge and no bridge is being discussed in Wilmington and vicinity, the Brunswick Board o Commissioners are standing pat on the proposition agreed to several years ago to have New Hanover build the bridge across the Cape Fear while Brunswick was to build the bridge across the Brunswick river. The bonds have been voted by Brunswick for that purpose and the commissioners seem determined to stick to that agreement. The New Hanover commissioners have never recognized any agreement that was binding, contending that such arrangements as were made were through the Chamber of Commerce and was not official.

On one point everybody seems to be agreed and that is the necessity of having better transportation facilities across the river. That steps will be taken immediately to secure concerted action is assured but with what results cannot now be foreseen.

The building of a bridge with a wider draw than 100 feet which was called for in the plans submitted to the government engineers would cost more money but this is not considered a serious obstacle. With a draw of 200 feet and a higher elevation, it is beleved that the government would give its consent for a bridge, if the people really want it.

LEAGUE BASKETBALL

Class "B" Players Are Practicing For Opeing of Season.

Preparatory to the opening of the local basketball season, Class "B" players of the Boys' Brigade are busy practicing and the indications are that the members of the various teams in this class will be in almost top form when the season starts here on Wednesday, October 4.

"Feet" Carney, one of the fastest men in the league, will head the "Tigers," while Bell, Costin and James will head the opposing teams. The teams are composed of the following:

Leopards—N. James, captain; G. Gafford, K. Smith, I. Davis and Skipper.

Lions—Costen, captain; G. Fowler, E. Snakenburg, K. Jewell and W. Hines.

Cubs—Bell, captain; W. Sanders, R. Sanders, E. Boswell and F. Kranke.

Tigers—Carney, captain; J. Fowler, D. Ellis, A. Jewell and T. Kermon.

UNIFORM RANK ORGANIZED

Wilmington Knights of Pythias Form Second Organization of Kind in North Carolina.

At an enthusiastic meeting in the Pythian building last night, the Uniform Rank of Knights of Wilmington was organized, this being the second of its kind in the State, with a membership of 35 members. As soon as the uniforms can be secured, the organization will begin drilling and expects at an early date to have one of the best drilled teams to be found in the South.

The organization meeting which was called to order by Mr. R. D. Christman, was held just before the regular meeting of the Jefferson Lodge of Pythians.

Permanent officers were elected as follows: Captain, Mr. C. McB. Wilson; first lieutenant, Mr. S. F. Garrison; second lieutenant, Mr. Fred E. Little; recorder, Mr. R. D. Christman; treasurer, Mr. W. P. McGlaughon; guard, Mr. G. V. Moore; sentinel, Mr. W. D. Jones.

All members of the Pyhtian order in Wilmington are eligible for membership and it is expected that the present enrollment will be greatly enlarged. The members will have regulation military uniforms and will make a fine showing after they have drilled for a while. Those behind the movement are enthusiastic and are confident that they can make it a fine advertisement for the Pythians as well as for the city.

WORKING FOR COUNTY FAIR IN BRUNSWICK

Will be Held at Bolivia for Two Days in November.

Community Fairs Will Be Held in Each Township Immediately Preceding County Event—Splendid Exhibits Promised.

The Brunswick county fair, to be held at Bolivia, November 3rd and 4th, will be a big event, according to Mr. Jackson Johnson, of Winnabow, who was recently elected as president of the fair association, and Mr. R. T. Melvin, of Supply, farm demonstrator for that county, both of whom spent yesterday in Wilmington in the interest of the approaching event. Immediately preceding the county fair, each township will hold a community fair.

Messrs. Johnson and Melvin will continue their canvass in Wilmington today. They talked with many of the business men here yesterday and met with most gratifying encouragement. They received every assurance that Wilmington people are keenly interested in the development of Brunswick and are willing to do everything possible to that end.

A prize list is being arranged by the officials of the fair which will be published shortly for general distribution. It is proposed to bring together a big display of agricultural and truck products as well as other handiwork. The exhibits at the community fairs will be shown at the county fair and it is expected that practically all the exhibits will also be brought to the Corn Show to be held in Wilmington, November 7th to 10th, inclusive.

The people of Brunswick county are waking up along all lines, according to Mr. Johnson, who is enthusiastic over the outlook for the future. He believes that the inauguration of a county fair will mean great things as it will afford the people an opportunity to get together and learn what each other is doing.

The fair is to be held at Bolivia because it is a central point and is readily accessible from all parts of the county. A new school house was recently built which will be used for displaying the exhibits. The old school building has not yet been torn down and will also be utilized for the fair.

It is also proposed to have a very creditable live stock exhibit as there will be plenty of stabling room available and attractive prizes will be offered.

The officers of the fair association are: President, Mr. Jackson Johnson, of Winnabow; vice-president, Mr. J. O. Lennon, of Supply; secretary and treasurere, Mr. J. R. Jenrette, of Regan; general manager, Farm Demonstrator R. T. Melvin, of Supply.

MR. H. E. O'KEEFE PURCHASES HOME AT CAROLINA HEIGHTS

Trading in Real Estate in Wilmington Continues to Be Active.

Mr. H. E. O'Keefe has purchased through the real estate agency of Mr. L. W. Moore the pretty home of Mr. C. H. Belvin, on the east side of Wrightsville avenue, 66 feet north of Wolcott avenue, at Carolina Heights, and will move into the residence soon. The consideration is understood to have been $4,000. Mr. Belvin has purchased an adjoining lot on which he will erect a home in the near future.

Mr. V. Sidbury has purchased from the Hanover Trust Company the residence on the west side of Fifth street, 66 feet south of Princess, which was formerly owned by Mr. Charles D. Foard. The consideration named in the deed filed for record yesterday is $8,050.

Mr. L. W. Moore has sold to C. D. Weeks, Esq., an acre and a half of land at Winter Park for a consideration of $1,000. Mr. Moore's agency has also recently sold to Mr. C. W. Davis the home formerly occupied by Mr. P. W. Reese, now of Savannah, Ga., the consideration being $3,000. This home was owned by Mr. Reese until his removal from Wilmington some time ago.

That trading in real estate continues to be active is indicated by the large number of deeds being filed for record. Those filed yesterday were as follows:

William Struthers, Jr., and wife to J. T. Lowrimore, for $100 and other considerations, lot on the west side of Third street, 160 feet south of Cedar avenue, at Winter Park Gardens.

Wilmington Beach Corporation to Morris Moore, for $100 and other considerations, two lots at Wilmington Beach.

C. C. Chadbourn and wife to W. M. Cumming and wife, for $100 and other considerations, lot on the north side of Sixth street, 140 feet north of Maple avenue at Edgewood.

W. M. Cumming and wife to William Cumming, for $100 and other considerations, lot on the north side of Castle street, 57 feet east of Ninth, 30 by 69 feet in size.

RECORDER'S DOCKET LIGHT

Abandonment Case Is Postponed Until This Morning.

Only five defendants were arraigned at yesterday morning's session of the Recorder's court, and none of them were charged with offenses of a serious nature.

Among the cases disposed of were those of Edgar Linterloh, of No. 1800 Castle street, charged with abandonment and failure to provide support for his wife, Alice Linterloh, whose case was continued until Friday morning; Stephen Rodgers, colored, charged with violation of the tax ordinance, whose case was nol prossed with leave; Herbert Backus, colored, charged with violation of a city ordinance, who was found not guilty, and Janie Hicks and Lillie Johnson, charged with an affray, whose cases were continued until this morning.

Lands Big Drum.

Mr. W. J. Hutaff, a member of the New Hanover Fishing Club, caught a 31 1-2 pound drum at Masonboro Sound about 9 o'clock last night, which he succeeded in landing after a fight lasting about 30 minutes. He was fishing in company with Mr. J. D. McCarley and several other smaller fish were caught by the men.

TO HAVE ELECTRICAL WEEK

Wilmington Will Join With Other Cities of Country in Big Celebration in December.

Wilmington is to have a great city-wide electrical celebration this fall as part of a National movement, backed by many of the industrial leaders of this country, to electrify America. During a period of seven days, December 2-9, it is planned to have every city in the United States of more than 10,000 population demonstrate in many striking ways the business progress it has made in the last five years.

A feature of the Wilmington celebration will be the completion by that time of the installation of the new system of street illumination in the downtown district, under the terms of the recent contract made with the city for discarding the present antiquated arched strings of lights. Work has already begun on putting in the new lights. Along North Front street the brackets for the lights are being put in and work will begin soon in putting in the new lamps of 1,000 candle power, of which there will be 98. Two lamps will be put in for each of the 44 arches and eight additional ones will be placed on Princess street in the vicinity of the new custom house.

Later the Tidewater Power Company will put in steel polls in place of the present wooden ones. When the contract was recently signed the city agreed to allow the company to wait until steel is selling for a reasonable price, the present cost being exceedingly high, upon condition that the Tidewater Power Company reimburse the municipality in the interim by giving a rebate on the cost of the lights.

The completion of the new lighting system for the electrical week will give to it an added significance for the Wilmington people. The movement took on definite shape in New York City last week when 1,650 of the leading business men of America accepted appointment to a National directing committee.

At the head of the executive committee is Gerard Swope, vice-president of the Western Electric Company. On this directing committee, and back of the undertaking are executives from the General Electric, the Westinghouse Electric and the nation's foremost electrical companies, which represent investments in the United States of more than four billions of dollars.

The campaign will be directed by the Society for Electrical Development, the leading electrical organization of America, of which J. M. Wakeman is general manager. The event will be known as America's Electrical Week, and, according to the society's announcements, it will be featured simultaneously everywhere by parades and pageantry, special illuminations, electrical shows and demonstrations of what electricity has done in peace and in war in the last few years.

Wilmington business men and others in this city, who have been identified with local betterment campaigns, will manage the details and the ceremonies of the celebration here.

The chairman of the local committee is Mr. Raymond Hunt, assistant general manager of the Tidewater Power Company, who will call a meeting of the city committee at an early date to adopt a complete programme for the fall celebration. At the same time every chairman throughout the country will start active work in mapping out each city's plans. It is proposed to interest every person using electric service in the United States in the campaign.

Special features suggested for the campaign include electrical shows which will provide exhibits of the benefits of electricity in the home, upon the farm, in the factory and in the store, besides demonstrating the newest appliances of electricity in this country and abroad. Shopping centres and the principal streets will be decorated and specially lighted for the occasion. Other features will be announced later.

The Chamber of Commerce has pledged active co-operation with the other commercial organizations to round out an event worthy of the city's industrial and civic progress. Arrangements will be made to invite and to entertain visitors to the city from the outlying districts and to decorate al lthe city's leading place sof business during the week.

$10,000 CHECK TURNED OVER TO KENNEDY HOME

Bequest Made by Late Mr. Bear to be Used for Erecting Addition.

Mrs. Roger Moore, president of the board of managers of the Catherine Kennedy Home, received from J. O. Carr, Esq., a check for $10,000, the amount left by the late Mr. Samuel Bear to be used in building an addition to the home for aged ladies at Ninth and Princess streets.

Mr. Bear's will made provision that this sum be turned over to the board of managers as soon as they decided to make the addition. It was recently decided to construct the addition on a vacant lot to the east of the present building. In accordance with Mr. Bear's wishes, the money was turned over to the board by Mr. Carr, who has been engaged by the administrators to handle the affairs of the deceased. This handsome bequest, which was but one of many made by Mr. Bear to charitable institutions, will enable the board to erect an addition with all modern conveniences.

GOVERNOR GLENN COMING

Will Pass Through Wilmington Next Week En Route to Shallotte.

Former Governor Robert B. Glenn, who is scheduled to make a number of addresses in the present campaign, will pass through Wilmington next week en route to speak at the Democratic rally at Shallotte on next Wednesday. Governor Glenn will be taken to Shallotte by his old friend, Senator W. B. Cooper.

Governor Glenn will be a welcome visitor in New Hanover and Brunswick counties, where he has many friends.

CHANGE OF OFFICERS

Mr. T. J. Armstrong Named As Vice-President of Highway Association

After the election of officers of the Wilmington-Goldsboro Highway Association, at Warsaw Wednesday, the executive committee made a change in the vice-presidency, Mr. T. J. Armstrong, of Rocky Point, was named in place of Mr. W. A. Brown. Mr. Brown was named as auxiliary committeeman from Rocky Point.

Carload of Coal for Orphans.

The following from the Methodist department of the Raleigh Christian Advocate, written by Rev. A. S. Barnes, superintendent of the orphanage at Raleigh, will be read with interest in Wilmington: "I have just given my order for the first carload of coal. For the year it will take about two hundred and fifty tons to run our institution. Each car will contain fifty tons. Last year Brother C. C. Covington, of Wilmington, sent me one hundred and seventy-five dollars with which to pay for one car. No doubt he enjoyed the comforts of his own home more by providing warmth for our two hundred children. I am wondering if there are not five friends with noble impulses and broad sympathies who will become responsible for a car each?"

All the New Fall 1916 Styles In Women's and Misses' Suits

Simplicity is the keynote for the styles in Fall Suits for 1916. And because of this they possess a beauty and a charm that will make them appeal irresistibly to every woman and miss who see them. The coats are in 40 inch to 42 inch lengths, many show beautiful ripple effects of the Moyen Age now so popular in Paris. All are adorned with high collars in simple notch effects or in sailor or cape forms. The sleeves are quite simple, and inclined to show a fullness at the elbow or slightly below it, and are trimmed with pretty novel cuffs.

Most all the Skirts have straight lines of a semi-circular cut. Others are pleated at the sides, entirely pleated throughout. The materials most favored are serges, poplins, gabardines, broadcloths, velour in navy, blue, catawba, mulberry, tete de negre, dark green and taupe. Whether you intend to purchase or not, a cordial invitation is extended to you to come in to see them.

Prices Range All the Way From $9.95 to $65.00

MRS SUMMEY ENTERTAINS AT AFTERNOON BRIDGE PARTY

The many Wilmington friends of Mrs. D. D. Summey, who formerly lived in this city, will be interested in the following item, which appeared on the social page of last Sunday's Atlanta Constitution:

"Mrs. D. D. Summey entertained delightfully at bridge Tuesday afternoon at her home in Inman Park in compliment to Mrs. J. H. Tutwiler. A profusion of flowers, from the hostess' own garden, decorated the house.

"The prizes were silk stockings and a crochet pin cushion, and for the guest of honor a gold bar pin.

"Mrs. Summey wore pink chiffon over taffeta. Miss Etel Niall and Felice Larendon served punch during the afternoon."

HELEN ALEXANDER LEAGUE HAD SPLENDID MEETING

An inspiring address by Mrs. W. M. Cumming was one of the most helpful features of the meeting of the Helen Alexander League of business women at the Young Women's Christian Association last evening. There were 80 young women in attendance at the meeting which was preceded by an enjoyable supper which had been prepared under the direction of a committee of the organization.

Mrs. Cumming explained the value of high ideals, taking as her subject, "Wherewithal Shall a Young Woman Cleanse Her Way." At the business meeting of the league it was decided to continue the meetings which have proven so helpful in the past and to appoint committees to arrange for them. A devotional committee will arrange the programmes and an entertainment committee will provide for the luncheons. Other committees will be appointed should the need arise.

WILL GIVE BENEFIT RECITAL AT THE ACADEMY OF MUSIC

Miss Anna Graham Harris, whose splendid contralto voice has been heard on several occasions in Wilmington will give a benefit recital at the Academy of Music on Tuesday evening, October 2nd. She will be assisted by Mr John F. Harris, Jr., basso, and Mr. Wm. G. Robertson, pianist. Miss Harris has spent the past four years in New York and Philadelphia, where she studied under the leading singers of the country. She has sung in many of the leading church of those two cities and has also appeared in numerous concerts and recitals.

Mr. Harris recently returned from the Brokfield Summer School of Singing in Connecticut, where he spent several months studying grand opera singing. Speaking of a concert in which he recently appeared the Danbury News says: "Ferrando as sung by John Harris, of Wilmington, N. C., was one of the most enjoyable bits of the evening. His voice unmatched in sonority and breadth, made a distinctly favorable impression, and his fine articulation was most commendable."

MR. COOPER ENTERTAINS FRIENDS AT CLUB HOUSE

The following account of a party given by Mr. Thos. E. Cooper, of this city, is taken from this week's Mullins (S. C.) Enterprise:

"Thos. E. Cooper, of Wilmington, entertained at his Sans Souci club house on the Pee Dee last week several bankers and personal friends in the party were State Bank Examiner Mauldin, Col. D. A. Spivey, of the People's National Bank, of Conway; Noah H. Jenerette, of the National Bank of Hamlet; E. F. Powell, of the Bank of Whiteville.

"In addition to the above, H. A. Lewis, of Marion, and the local bankers of Mullins together with several personal friends enjoyed the hospitality which Mr. Cooper so lavishly bestows on his guests on occasions of this kind.

"The weather was fine and fish were plentiful, and the visitors enjoyed the sumptuous feasts of Pee Dee bream and red bread, served in fry and stew a la Jordan. It was the first Pee Dee stew that some of the party had ever tasted, but they declared that it was fine and proved their declaration to the satisfaction of all present.

"Mr. Cooper and his friends went down on Thursday and remained in camp until Saturday night, and there was not a dull moment during the entire outing. Fishing was good and the guests passed away the days most pleasantly.

"Mr. Cooper has two splendid gasoline launches at the club, and these were placed at the disposal of the visitors who enjoyed the delightful rides up and down the river and exploring the various inland lakes in that section."

PERSONAL PARAGRAPHS.

—Mr. F. A. Fennell, of Newberlin, was in the city on business yesterday.

—Judge W. P. Stacy will leave today for Sparta in Alleghany county to hold court next week. Judge Stacy recently exchanged courts for six weeks with Judge B. F. Long, of Statesville, and will be in the extreme western part of North Carolina until the middle of November.

—Mr. B. F. Baird, of Philadelphia, after spending three weeks very pleasantly with friends and relatives in this city, has returned home. Mrs. Baird will remain for some time longer, a guest at the home of her brother, Mr. Wm. E. Springer, on North Second street.

STATE TROOPS MAY PASS THROUGH CITY TOMORROW

Delay in Movement is Due to Lack of Winter Clothing.

Although it is practically certain that the First Regiment of the North Carolina National Guard, now encamped at Camp Glenn, will pass through Wilmington on its way to the Mexican border, nothing definite is known as to just when the troops will entrain or when they will pass through this city. All efforts to ascertain these facts made by officials directly interested in the transportation of the soldiers have proved of no avail. Lack of an adequate supply of winter clothing is said to be the cause of the delay in the movement of the troops. It is reported that the troops will probably entrain tomorrow, though this is entirely unofficial.

Company "B," Engineer troops, N. C. N. G., from Charlotte, passed through the city early yesterday morning by special train en route to Camp Glenn.

The company is commanded by Capt. C. F. Boesch and Lieutenants Winthrop and Trescott. The company consists of 71 officers and men. Whether the Charlotte company or the Wilmington company, which is already at Camp Glenn, are to be included in the movement of the troops, is a matter of conjecture, no official information on the subject being available. The Wilmington company, however, having received considerable training, is more than likely to be sent, it is reported.

MISS MAY BUCK IS DEAD

Passed Away Last Midnight at Ridgecrest—Interment at Black Mountain

Many friends in Wilmington will be deeply grieved to learn of the death of Miss May Blythe Buck, daughter of Mr. J. W. Buck, of this city, which occurred at midnight last night at Ridgecrest, N. C. She was 19 years old. Her father and other members of the family were with her when the end come. The funeral and interment will be at Black Mountain.

The news was received through a telegram to The Star this morning.

To Publish the Guide Soon.

Mr. L. T. Henderson, representative of the Credit Experience Guide, arrived in the city last night. He states that the Wimington Credit Experience Giude will be published just as soon as the wholesale houses have sent in their ratings for the merchants. All of the retail merchants of the city have sent in their ratings of customer, Mr. Henderson states, and it should be but a short time before the book is out.

Rivals Her Daughter in Youthful Beauty

A well-known society matron whose youthful beauty is so well preserved that she is regarded as her daughter's rival in this respect—though she does not pose as such—attributes her girlish complexion chiefly to two things. She says:

"I am convinced that many cosmetics, by overloading the skin and pores, tend to age the complexion. Mercolized wax has just the opposite effect. It keeps the pores clean, permitting them to breathe, and removes dead particles of cuticle which are constantly appearing and which give the complexion that aged look. Whenever my skin begins to get the least bit off-color, muddy or faded, I go to my druggist's for an ounce of mercolized wax; I apply this nightly, like cold cream, for a week or so, washing it off mornings. This is what keeps my complexion so fresh, white and velvety.

"The absence of wrinkles and flabbiness I owe to the use of a simple face bath prepared by dissolving one ounce of powdered saxolite in a half pint witch hazel. This keeps the skin 'tight' and firm."—Social Register.

AT JAMES SPRUNT INSTITUTE

Most Auspicious Formal Opening of That Old and Well Known Institution at Kenansville.

Rev. A. D. McClure, D. D., pastor of St Andrew's Presbyterian church, this city, returned yesterday evening from Kenansville, Duplin county, where on yesterday he attended and made the principal address at the formal opening of fall term of James Sprunt Institute, one of the oldest and best known educational institutions of this section and which is under the care of the Wilmington Presbytery.

The opening this fall was under the most favorable auspices and Dr. McClure was delighted with the prospects for an excellent year at the school. The property has lately been put in the best of condition, a new metal roof having been placed on the main building, sewerage, water and lights put in, and many other permanent improvements having been made in the college plant.

At the opening this fall every room in the dormitory has been taken and the faculty is filled under the presidency of Rev. W. F. Hollingsworth, who has entered with zest upon the work. He is ably assisted in the management and direction of the school by Mrs. Hollingsworth, an accomplished lady, formerly Miss Castex, of Goldsboro, N. C.

Dr. McClure, who made the opening address, is president of the Board of Trustees of the Institute, and he predicts for the school a season of great prosperity and influence for good in the Presbytery.

CHIEF OF POLICE WILLIAMS ASKED TO PAY FOR WHISKEY

Immediate Possession of One Keg of Liquor Asked For in Complaint.

Because it is alleged that Chief of Police Williams carelessly stored contents of two shipments of liquor which were sent to Wilmington in seven barrels under the guise of being flour and were later seized by police officers under search and seizure warrants and because of the further avowal that the greater part of the booze was negligently allowed to be removed by parties unknown, the Atlantic Coast Line prays that it be awarded the sum of $25 and a further amount of $6.02 for freight charges, in a complaint filed by the plaintiff in an action started in the Recorder's court some time ago.

The plaintiff sets forth in its complaint that it received a shipment in Richmond, Va., from Giles Smith, in due course of business, of five barrels, labeled as flour, consigned to Isaac Smith, in Wilmington, and two other barrels, likewise denominated flour, consigned to the Brunswick Grocery Company. It is averred that these shipments were accepted in good faith and without knowledge of their contents, as there were no indications to show that they were composed chiefly of liquor, and that after being stored in the warehouse of the plaintiff the barrels were seized by police officers and carried to police headquarters after it was found that instead of being flour, the contents were mostly whiskey. It is also averred that no warrants have been issued for arrest of anyone but that on the contrary no effort has been made to bring anyone to trial. Repeated demands, it is declared, have been made for the whiskey, but they have been ignored.

Immediate possession is demanded for one keg of whiskey, seized under claim and delivery proceedings, and the sum of $25 is asked for the other whiskey and such other relief as the court may see fit to grant. It is also set forth that there is due for freight on the shipments the sum of $6.02 as the shipments were sent "collect" and all efforts have failed to find the consignor. It is also claimed that none of the whiskey can be identified with the exception of one keg as it has been mixed up with a lot of other whiskey. Chief of Police Williams is accordingly asked to pay for the freight.

The complaint is signed by Rountree, Davis and Carr, attorneys for the plaintiff. The case will not come up for trial until Chief of Police Williams files his answer and it is not known just when that will be.

FUCHS' STORE OPENING

Hundreds of Friends and Patrons Visit New Establishment.

Hundreds of patrons and friends of Mr. J. W. H. Fuchs were interested visitors at his new store yesterday on the occasion of its fall opening, which, following the recent fire, has been reopened amid attractive surroundings with an entirely new and varied assortment of merchandise.

The opening yesterday disclosed a full line of department store goods of all kinds. The new creations in both fall merchandise and millinery goods, include dress goods, coats and a very smart line of both large and small hats.

HOW TO REDUCE YOUR WEIGHT

A SIMPLE, SAFE, RELIABLE WAY.

People who are over-burdened with superfluous fat, know only too well the discomfort and ridicule that over-stout people have to bear.

If you are carrying around five or ten pounds of unhealthy fat you are unnecessarily weakening your vital organs and are carrying a burden which destroys the beauty of your figure.

There is no need of anyone suffering from superfluous fat. If you want to reduce your weight in a simple, safe and reliable way, without starvation diet or tiresome exercise, here is a test worth trying. Spend as much time as you can in the open air, breathe deeply, and get from Elvington's Pharmacy, or any good druggist a box of oil of korein capsules; take one after each meal and one before retiring at night.

Weigh yourself once a week, so as to know just how fast you are losing weight, and don't leave off the treatment or even skip a single dose until you are down to normal.

Oil of korein is absolutely harmless, is pleasant to take, and helps digestion. Even a few days' treatment has been reported to show a noticeable reduction in weight, footsteps become lighter, your work seems easier and a lighter and more buoyant feeling takes possession of your whole being.

Every person who suffers from superfluous fat should give this treatment a trial.

DR. R. W. CRAWFORD DEAD

Chief Surgeon of the Atlantic Coast Line Passed Away Yesterday at Home at Strasburg, Va.

Dr. R. W. Crawford, chief surgeon of the Atlantic Coast Line, passed away at his home yesterday at Strasburg, Va., after an illness of several months. Because of failing health he gave up active service in connection with his duties in Wilmington and later went to Colorado Springs, Colo., with the hope of recuperating, but secured little relief. About two weeks ago he returned to his home.

Dr. Crawford had a great many friends not only in Wilmington, where he had lived for the past three years until his last illness, but all over the Atlantic Coast Line system, who will learn with deep sorrow of his death. Of a pleasant and affable disposition and most charming personality, he had won a wide circle of devoted friends.

Although still a young man, being only 36 years old, he had by his marked ability and close application to his work gained the confidence and high esteem of the officials of the Coast Line. Up until three years ago, when he came to Wilmington to take the position of chief surgeon, he had been for a number of years superintendent of the Coast Line railroad hospital at South Rocky Mount.

He was a graduate of Washington and Lee University and secured his medical training at the University of Maryland.

Dr. Crawford was a member of the Masonic order, in which he was a Knight Templar. He was also a member of the Cape Fear Club, in Wilmington, and of the Cape Fear Country Club.

The funeral will be held this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the home at Strasburg, Va.

TWO ARE HURT WHEN AUTO SMASHES INTO IRON RAIL

Mrs. Williamson and Grandson are Slightly Injured in Accident.

Elmer Harris Williamson, 15-year-old-son of Mr. G. T. Williamson, superintendent of the fire alarm and police call systems, sustained a dislocated hip, while his grandmother, Mrs. Elizabeth Williamson sustained a larceration of the leg, when an automobile owned and driven by Mr. Williamson ran into a pipe railing on the Wrightsville turnpike at Delgado about 6:30 o'clock Wednesday night.

Mr. Williamson ,his mother and son were all in the machine when the accident occurred. It took place at a sharp fill and curve in the road and was caused by the fact that in trying to avert a collision with another automobile, Mr. Williamson had to turn his machine into the railing. Mrs. Williamson suffered a gash in one leg, when she jumped from the car, the rear wheel passing over her lower limbs. Young Williamson was standing on the running board when the accident took place, following which he was removed to the James Walker Memorial Hospital. Mrs. Williamson was removed to her home. Mr. Williamson said last night that neither of the two were injured very seriously and that he expected his son to be abe to leave the hospital by Sunday. The automobile, a Saxon, was only sightly damaged as it was being driven at a comparatively sow rate of speed.

THEATRICAL

How easy ambition, virtue and duty are stifled in those who surrender themselves to the pursuit of the vain pleasures of the world is graphically shown in "The Hypocrites," the sixth chapter of the Pathe "Grip of Evil" photodramas which will be shown at the Grand theatre today.

John Burton, who is seeking to discover whether all mankind is helpless in the grip of evil, aids the son and daughter of a farmer to go to the city and study for the careers their ambition and talents have pointed out to them. The boy desires to become an engineer, the girl a painter.

But the giddy pursuits of the city soon have the foolish boy and girl enmeshed. He forsakes his studies and wastes the money of his benefactor among evil companions, while she becomes an artist's model and permits the flattery of her employer to deaden the ideal of virtue her parents had implanted in her heart. When John Burton sees the girl in the arms of the artist and the boy under arrest for his part in a drunken brawl, he is more than ever convinced that humanity is in the grip of evil.

TODAY'S GREAT EPISODE OF "THE GRIP OF EVIL" AT THE GRAND

There are other great features at the Grand today, but "The Grip of Evil" with all its thrilling intensity, will be sufficient advance notice to insure great crowds. Rest assured, there'll be big money's worth of entertainment on tap, besides this great serial.

"The Heart of a Child"—Royal.

The Red Feather production, "The Heart of a Child," which will be shown at the Royal today, is an adaptation for the screen of a famous novel of the same name, which, some years ago, was a best seller, both in this country and in Great Britain. The author is the well-known woman novelist, who writes under the pseudonym of "Frank Danby," and whose works are read in every part of the world where the English language is understood. Her first great success was the extraordinary story to which she gave the strange title "Pigs in Clover." This ran through edition after edition, and had the reputation of being one of the most daring books which had ever appeared from the pen of a woman novelist. "Frank Danby" followed her first hit with several others, all of which achieved success along the same lines. Then she suddenly astonished her admirers by publishing "The Heart of a Child," a modern version of the old tale of the prince who married the beggar maid, a story as fresh and charming, and almost as improbable as a real fairy tale. Strange to say, this departure from her established style was as successful as the other type had been, and the book ran through many editions.

The photo version of it loses nothing of the charm of the original, and gains much by the vivid characterizations of the principal personages of the story by an excellent cast. Genuine pleasure is in store for those who witness the latest Red Feather, "The Heart of a Child."

Tomorrow at the Grand.

It was indeed a great hit made by that great Biograph Griffith-Sennett programme at the Grand last Saturday, so the management has succeeded in booking for tomorrow the other interest story with thrills and pathos all the way through.

Mack Sennett will present a great single reel production "When the Fire Bells Rang," starring inimitable Fred Mace in the leading role.

Best Yet at Victoria.

The last and absolutely the best bill yet, will be put on by the Little Bluebird Company at the Victoria today, running through to Saturday night. We told you Wednesday's bill would be better than Monday's—and it was. And, again, we tell you that this bill today is the best yet—and it is!

"The Haunted Station" is a screamingly funny blackface comedy featuring the inimitable Jack Fuquay in the leading role, and is so full of funny and ridiculous situations that you'll simply laugh all the way through.

But there is several let-ups in the comedy long enough to permit that nifty singing and dancing chorus to put in some good licks, and for two or three great vaudeville and trio specialties. "Come Along All You Men," by Beulah Fuquay and chorus, is a very attractive number, followed by another and brand new great specialty by the Bluebird Trio, composed of Jack Fuquay, Harold Gilles and Douglas Fleming—you know what to expect from them. Dolly Parker then presents a singing act that is good and new and Beulah Fuquay comes back in a still better one, "There's a Little Bit of Bad in Every Good Little Girl," a brand new Broadway song hit. "Heko Moke Isle" that old favorite, by Douglas Fleming and chorus is another nifty number.

Brand new scenery, new specialties all the way through and some of the niftiest costumes yet seen are a feature of this bill today.

Rare Treat at Bijou.

And the Bijou comes forward with another rare Friday treat for today, presenting that great star of Red Feather and Bluebird fame, Jack Warren Kerrigan, back again on the Universal programme, in a great three-reel Gold Seal feature, "The Code of the Mounted," a feature with thrills every minute, and in this great feature he is supported by Ethel Phillips, Robert Myles, Wilma Wilkie and Buck Connor.

You have to hand it to this guy Kerrigan. The way he can help a friend, lick an enemy, shoot straight, ride hard, fight fair, be square and always cop the girl, has most of us going south. They hand him a hard proposition in this drama of the North. He loves a girl. Of course she does. What girl doesn't? And her brother stabbed a man in a fight. Jack's sergeant loved her, too, and, thinking to get him in bad with the girl, he sends his rival after the boy. There's a nice little photo-play problem, isn't it? It takes three reels crammed with action and big doings to tell the story, and will keep any fan gasping, but, as we said before, he cops the girl, yes, and he gets even with the sarge, and gets his man, and everything—just like that.

There's other great features on today's bill, including a rousing Victor comedy feature, "'Love's Boomerang," starring Harry Pepp in the leading role.

Mutt & Jeff's Wedding.

"Mutt & Jeff's Wedding," the new 1916-18 edition, will be at the Academy of Music on Thursday, September 28 for a matinee and night performance. Don't get the idea that Mutt & Jeff is old or that it is deteriorating—it is the one musical comedy that has weathered all theatrical storms and will live for years to come.

This year Mr. Hill has given us an entire new production, including play, music, costumes etc., and a real girly chorus.

It is a play for the entire family to see, without a line or a situation that will bring the blush to the cheeks of young or old.

Tickets for both performances will go on sale at Plummer's next Tuesday morning.

Bristol's Famous Horses.

These perfectly educated animals with the Great American Shows contribute to a higher and more unexceptional class of entertainments than hitherto furnished. Prof. Bristol has by years of patient and industrious toil, acting solely on the principle of reciprocal kindness to the brute creation, accomplished wonders. This exemplary man has without treatment approaching cruelty, succeeded in bringing them to the state of almost absolute perfection in this science. In Prof. Bristol's present school, no cheap tricks, well known to the circus ring, are performed, but in every respect have they been taught feats never before attempted. Abounding in astonishing and amazing perfection, Bristol's horses are the paragon of all educated horse acts, an act different from all others. A most wonderful exhibition of brute culture and sagacity. Endorsed by all the leading journals of this as well as the old country. The clergy, the medical faculty and all humane societies in this country and abroad. No lover of horses can afford to miss the entertainment. Now under the direction of Prof. Deloos M. Bristol. They will find a most wonderful exhibition of animal intelligence. There is not a dull moment from the time these horses come upon the stage until the curtain falls. Their intelligence and skill cannot be excelled.

Don't fail to see them with the great American shows, week of September 25th, benefit playground.

New Whims in BOUDOIR WEAR

By Hester Winthrop

A Frilled Effect with Bretelles and Panels in Quaint Style

A Lovely Kimona of Orange Crepe Embroidered in Flesh Pink

Loop up your Kimona with a Rosette and you have the Latest Style of Peignoir

Bands of Ribbon hide the Stitches in this Lace Will O' the Wisp Tea Gown

A Quilted Sacque with Cap to Match—Both for Breakfast Wear

Quilted Sacques the Latest Wrinkle in Boudoir Wear - Corn Color a Favorite for Peignoir and Teagown - A Pantalet Negligee Astonishingly Charming - Slippers Must Match the Negligee, Stockings Also.

An important item has been added to the negligee wardrobe; one must possess a chaise longue negligee now, in addition to the various peignoirs, dressing sacques, bathrobes and tea gowns which make up the complete list for a woman of fashion. A thousand dollars may easily be spent by the autumn bride for negligee wear alone, if she be so minded; for some of these beautiful things cost a pretty penny indeed. Five hundred francs is really a modest sum to pay for a lounging gown of chiffon and lace, bought in a Paris shop; and when it comes to a tea gown or an elaborate negligee for the chaise longue, there is scarcely any limit to the amount—it all depends on the quality and quantity of lace, lavishly used.

The chaise longue robe is a garment of dreams. It is not quite so formal as the tea gown, though socially elegant and it has an ineffable grace of line that blends with the lines of the figure, stretched reposefully in that most graceful of reposing places—a chaise longue. A belt would spoil the effect entirely; the soft folds of filmy material must sweep downward from shoulder to hem, clinging to the lines of the figure and ending in a froth of lacy petticoat about the feet. The beautiful negligee pictured is from Cheruit and is a triumph of achievement in this type of boudoir costume, possessing a Recamier-like grace, with its garland of roses beneath the bust in the Empire effect and its long lines of chiffon and lace softness. The material is flesh pink chiffon over an under-slip of Georgette in the same shade; the garland of roses is in tearose and flesh tones; the ribbon bands that attach the lace flounces are flesh pink; the flounces creamy tint; and the long scarf of chiffon palest apricot. It would be hard to imagine a lovelier negligee than this, and lucky indeed is the October bride to whose trousseau it belongs.

The Quaint, Quilted Sacque.

Quilting is the very last word in fashion now, and is the successor of smocking which is beginning to be a bit passe. There is a fussy, overdressy suggestion about quilting which marks it as a Victorian revival, though quilted petticoats were worn in Colonial times under looped up panniers of flowered silk. Smocking was rather difficult of acquirement by unskilled fingers but anybody can do quilting—all one needs is the ability to make tiny, even stitches and a needleful of silk thread. All quilting is done with silk, even on a cotton fabric; for cotton thread would not run smoothly enough in the tiny stitches and a sufficiently fine cotton to make such little stitches would not be strong enough. The quilted sacque in the picture is made of white soiree silk, quilted with white sewing-silk, and sacque and sleeve are in one, the quilting being done straight across the fabric, from selvedge to selvedge before the sacque is cut out. It will be necessary to make a seam down the center back, for the quilting takes up the material and one breadth would scarcely cut back and sleeves in one piece; but the seam at the back will not show in the quilted effect. Do not try to run the tiny stitches in straight rows by the eye, for they will certainly run crooked and the effect will be entirely spoiled. The best way is to do the quilting from the wrong side of the material, first ruling light pencil lines at an even distance apart and following them carefully. Take long threads of silk and run all the lines with tiny stitches, without attempting to gather. When all the stitches have been set the ends of the silk may be drawn up and the gathers stroked lightly to give the quilting a uniform effect.

The sacque is lined with white chiffon and all the edges are finished with braided ribbon. Use for this No. 2 white satin ribbon and three strands will be required to make the braiding. For finishing the sacque and trimming the cap you will need at least twenty yards of the narrow white ribbon. In flesh pink, palest blue or corncolor, this quilted sacque would be equally charming.

Corncolor For The Boudoir.

So many pale yellow negligees are being displayed in the shops nowadays that one wonders if all the boudoirs are being done over in corncolor, daffodil and tulip shades, for of course no woman of sensitive colorsense would dream of wearing a yellow negligee in a rose pink or turquoise boudoir. Yellow is a charming color for the negligee—provided the shade is pale yellow and the wearer's skin has no yellow tints. There are not many women who can wear yellow in garish daylight, though by candlelight the color is becoming to almost everybody. Since the negligee is worn during daylight hours—except when a boudoir is artificially lighted during the day for the sake of the soft effect—one should be very certain that one's corncolored or tulip-tinted negligee does not detract from one's good looks. Pale yellow crepe de chine veiled with lace or embroidered net makes a lovely color-scheme and sometimes the faint yellow tone may be relieved with violet. A tea gown of this sort has violet satin ribbons run through casings in the lace over-slip, the lining being pale daffodil in tone.

Cushions and pillows of the chaise longue are carefully matched to the negligee in which milady takes her siesta. For a background to the delicate pink chiffon gown there are half a dozen pillows of pink satin and cream Renaissance lace; for the pale blue negligee, a set of pillows in embroidered batiste over blue satin. Lavender satin and lace cushions will show off the pale yellow negligee to advantage. These various sets of cushions are kept in a special drawer built into the wall of the closet; or in a box-couch which stands at the foot of the bed, and a maid adjusts milady's cushions when the negligee has been selected. A woman who sets off her vivid brunette coloring with splendid peignoirs of gold-embroidered black satin with panels and trimmings of scarlet silk, has a chaise longue covered with black and gold striped satin, and her cushions are black and gold colored.

A negligee in the fashionable yellow is illustrated today, an orange silk kimono—a type of garment that never goes out of fashion, for the kimono is the ideal lounging gown, no matter what it is made of. The model pictured belongs to the most exclusive type of Japanese kimonos and these negligees are always rather high-priced; the soft silk crepe in orange tone, the lining of flesh pink silk crepe, the beautiful hand embroidery in rose pattern, all contribute to the costliness. Like all genuine Japanese kimonos of handsome quality, this one has the padded hem and the obi which ties around the waist. And unless you want to be very un-Japanese and really shocking in Oriental opinion, I beg of you always tie your kimono sash, or obi, in a crisp bow at the back and never, never knot it in front, girdle fashion. A Japanese lady of high degree would be horrified beyond expression at the girdle arrangement for only women of a certain class in Japan—and that class the very worst—tie the obi in front. Its significance to a Japanese is unmistakable.

All Afrill, This Tea Gown.

Borrowed from late Victorian days of a surety is the frilly negligee with quaint shoulder-bretelles extending in panels over a full skirt. An idea that is distinctly new, is this—new for the 20th century, that is; white muslin "wrappers" with fluted frills arranged in this fashion were very much the thing in the seventies. The tea gown pictured is of white soiree silk and the waist and sleeves are of embroidered net. The bretelles form a deep cape collar at the back, the dainty ruffles running all the way around. Slippers to match, made of shirred silk, has this old-timey but also distinctly modern negligee, lately supplied by Jeanne Mallee for a November trousseau.

Looped Up With A Rosette.

There is nothing exceptional about the pink brocade negligee except that it is looped up in rather a novel manner under a "rose" made of pink velvet ribbon in countless loops. The negligee itself is notably simple—not a thought of trimming on sleeve or neck, and the cut of it no more than an ordinary kimono shape. But in material as rich as this pink brocaded satin, the simplicity of cut makes for extreme grace and distinction, and the looping up of the front under the rosette adds coquetry and chic to an otherwise austerely simple robe. This is a peignoir, taking the same place in the wardrobe as a bathgown or a kimono—or a "wrapper" as my lady of Victorian days used to say—and is not intended for tea hour or for chaise longue wear. The cap of shirred lace has a pleated van dyke frill and a trimming of pink and silver leaves.

Accessories Of The Boudoir.

Fashionable negligee wear has its correct accessories just as tailored wear has—or evening wear. Boudoir petticoats are ravishing affairs, coquettish in the extreme with their layers and tiers of lace flounces, their featherbone hoops, their little fluttering bows and garlands of tiny rosebuds. The filmy sacques of embroidered net, chiffon and lace demand very elaborate petticoats and sometimes sacque and petticoat are designed to match, and great is the price thereof. There are special negligee corsets too, soft girdles of silk mesh to don when one lounges for an hour or two between formal engagements. The well fitted, corset would not do for the lounging hour and the figure must not be allowed to "spread" during the hour of repose; therefore the flexible, comfortable girdle or negligee-corset. Slippers and stockings are very important items of boudoir wear. They must match the chaise longue gown or peignoir to a nicety. Mules or slippers of glazed kid in pastel shades are worn with negligees, and as a rule boudoir slippers have moderate heels, the very high Louis heel being not quite so comfortable for lounging hours.

Bleaching Out the Summer Tan

The place where the heaviest coat of summer tan seems to be acquired is in the railway train, coming home. No scorching suns, no sea-breezes, no hours spent on tennis court or sailboat seem to have painted one's complexion black so quickly, as the journey from unconventionality to conventionality, from the summer resort where everybody was tanned to the city where pale faced folk are all about one.

The woman who has grown perfectly accustomed to her swarthy complexion in the mirror of the summer boarding house, faces it with horror as depicted in the triple glass over her pink-silk draped dressing-table at home. Seen in its town environment, her complexion is truly "a sight." And how is one ever to get it fair enough again to look right with the smart fall hat and veil; or with the new evening frocks of dainty hue? To be sure the tan will wear away in time, but the time will be several weeks distant. Some coats of tan or freckles do not disappear until long after Christmas, and while a tanned face and neck look quite "in the picture" on a breezy pier out over the water, with sunshine glinting on white yachting togs, the same tan above a pale pink satin evening frock in a candle-lighted room is a vastly different matter. Everything in its place; and the tanned complexion for out-of-doors!

Three things will bleach the complexion of summer tan; staying in the house till the face grows pale, steaming the skin to blanch it, and applying bleaching pastes. The first method is out of the question for the woman who has just come from the world of out-of-doors and feels stifled within four walls. It is surprising how one longs to get out into the sunshine in September and October; any excuse will do for an errand. On the same sort of day in April or May one lazily lounges and reads indoors and reviles the janitor for letting the furnace die down; but that is after a winter of indoor living and the debilitating effect of steam heat.

Cucumber juice will bleach off summer tan right speedily and the bleaching may be helped along with face steaming and massage with cold cream. Never try steaming the skin too frequently—twice in one week is all the average skin can stand without becoming too tender to face the harsh winds and dust it is likely to encounter out-of-doors. Some skins will bear steaming but once a week; and always, some soothing cream should be rubbed in after the process and cold water should be dashed on vigorously in the morning to close the pores and make the skin firm.

There are two ways of steaming the face; with a bowl of hot water and with a hot flat iron covered with a wet cloth. The latter method is illustrated, though for convenience in taking the photograph an unheated iron was used. It would, however, be easier for most women to stand the hot iron, covered with a wet towel, on an ironing stand set on a table, and to sit with the face held close to the steaming vapor. For the water steaming, draw a bowl full of water so hot that the steam rises well from it. Lean over the bowl and draw a large towel over your head and down over the edges of the bowl so that no steam escapes. Stay in this position until the water begins to cool off and manipulate the flesh of the face with the fingertips, pinching it gently all over brow, temples, cheeks and chin; not forgetting the portion around the nose where blackheads gather. As leaning over the steaming bowl for several minutes is apt to be tiring to the back, some women will choose the hot iron and wet towel steaming process.

The moment the face-steaming is over, pat the face lightly with a dry towel to remove the excess of moisture and then apply cold cream liberally, working it in with the fingertips. After this you may go to bed and sleep the sleep of the just. And do not forget the dash of cold water in the morning. After four of these treatments the face should begin to look very fair and clear enough to show color through, like a young girl's complexion; but between steamings do not use powder or any other cosmetic, further than a light dusting with talcum to remove shine; for the heavily powdered and rouged face will never grow milky-fair, no matter how much it is steamed and cold-creamed.

Suppose you steam your face Monday and Thursday nights; then on Wednesday and Sunday nights apply a bleach. Slice cucumbers very thin and lay them between strips of clean, soft linen. Bind one strip across the forehead and another under the chin, covering as much of the cheeks as you can. Then make two little pads in the same way to lay over that part of the face not covered by the strips. You will have to lie on your back for awhile; but by the time you are tired of this position you may remove the cucumber bleach and go to sleep. In the morning bathe the face with warm water and then with cold water. The cucumber treatment may be applied for an hour during the day, if preferred, while you take your after-luncheon rest.

There is a famous Irish bleach for making the skin lily-fair—a bleach which has as its basis the humble Irish potato. Several famous Irish beauties have used this bleach and have vouched for its beneficial qualities. Boil a good-sized potato in its jacket until quite soft; peel and put the potato on to boil again mashed with a little water. Stir until you have a pulp. This is to be used as a paste, spreading it over the skin and allowing it to dry on. Then the face should be bathed with sweet milk and dusted with powdered cornstarch. It is said that if this bleach will not make the skin white, nothing will. It is worth trying any way.

A Bi-Weekly Steaming Will Help In The Bleaching-out Process.

The forearms may be whitened and rid of their summer tan by a special steaming process. Wrap the arm in a cloth wet with cold water and then hold a very hot iron close to the cloth. Be careful not to burn the skin in this process, but pass the iron back and forth until the towel is almost dry. Then apply cold cream, as after the face steaming, and bind up the arms in strips of old linen for the night.

Freckles are harder to get rid of than tan. Indeed there is only one good way to keep the skin free of freckles—and that is to keep it protected from the sun. The woman with a delicate skin should wear a long-sleeved and high-necked bathing suit and a wide-brimmed bathing hat; and parasols and brown chiffon veils should form a part of the summer out-of-door wardrobe. The moment freckles come on arms, face or back of neck, they should be treated copiously with lemon juice and then cold cream, for once permanently established in the cuticle they will make a life-long blemish.

Steaming The Forearm To Remove Summer Tan.

COTTON PRICES GO HIGHER

January Approaches Near Season's Highest Records, While the Quotation on Spot Was 16.15.

New York, September 21.—A somewhat irregular and unsettled opening was followed by a very sharp advance in the cotton market today, with January selling up from 16.01 to 16.32, or 24 points above last night's close and within 16 points of the season's high receipts. Realizing caused reactions of several points later, with January touching 16.78, while the general list closed steady at a net advance of 14 to 16 points.

The opening was barely steady at an advance of two points to a decline of seven points and prices sold about four to seven points under last night's final figures during the early trading. Houses with Liverpool connections and with trade interests were buyers on the line and the market soon steadied. Prices worked higher and stop-orders were uncovered around midday. The consequent advance carreid October up to 16.05, December 16.25 and March 16.46, representing new high grounds for the movement on most positions. Demand then tapered off and the market eased off later in the afternoon under realizing and reports of increased southern hedge selling. Closing prices were 8 or 10 points off from the best.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

Heavy Buying by Outside Interests Causes Net Gain of 15 to 16 Points.

New Orleans, Sept. 21.—Heavy buying by outside interests put the price of cotton 33 to 34 points around the opening. At times trading was heavy and the ring extremely active. Profit-taking held the advance within bounds late in the session and the close was at a net gain of 15 to 16 points. At the highest the net gain was 23 to 25 points.

Liverpool was much better than due but the market was heavy in the early trading. Brokers had large hedging sales to fill and there was considerable liquidation in evidence. The soft spot, however, tempted heavy buying for long accouin and there was a sharp rise around the middle of the morning. The advance was fairly well maintained during the remainder of the session.

The hesitation of the market on the opening and its easiness a little later were due, in part ,to the fear that the submarine controversy was about to be re-opened. This was quickly offset by the report that a private crop reporting bureau was out with condition figures showing a drop of 5.3 points for the month and by claims that the demand for spots from American mills was strengthening. Closing bid:

October, 15.53; December, 15.83; January, 15.93; March, 16.18; May, 16.40.

Spot cotton steady 12 points up. Sales on the spot 1,138 bales; to arrive 2,290; middling 15.50 .

WHEAT PRICES SENT UP

Rallies in the Market, Due Largely to European Buying—Corn and Oats Are Unsettled.

Chicago, September 21. — Wheat prices rallied today largely on account of European buying, which developed after a decline here due more or less to lower quotations at Liverpool. The colse was firm, at 1.50¼ for December, and 1.51 for May, with the market as a whole ¼ off to ¼c. up, as compared with yesterday's finish. Corn closed ¼@⅝c. down to ⅝ advance; oats at a loss of ⅛ to ⅜, and provisions ranging from 12½ decline to a rise of 10.

STOCKS RATHER UNSETTLED

Aggressive Speculation Faction Makes Effort to Depress Prices—Some New Maximums.

New York, Sept. 21.—The striking feature of today's session, in which sales ran well over a million shares for the thirteenth consecutive full day, was the futile effort of an aggressive speculative faction to depress prices. Initial quotations were mainly higher, some substantially so, but a series of bear attacks effected this advantage before the end of the first hour, leaving the list rather unsettled. These tactics were successfully maintained until the middle of the day, when conditions improved, chiefly in consequence of another and more general advance in coppers.

New maximums were made by leading metals, Anaconda rising to 95 1-2, Utah to 90 3-8 and Inspiration to 64 3-8. Related issues were correspondingly strong. Dealings in the metal shares were on the largest scale of the year, amounting to about thirty per cent of the whole.

United States Steel lifted the list to today's highest level in the final hour, on its advance to the new record of 108 7-8, passing its previous top by almost a point. Rails and other investments moved up 1 to more than 2 points.

Many minor issues, such as leathers, sugars, Mexicans and some equipments participated in the recovery with shipping stocks and motors. A conspicuous exception was General Motors, which fell 65 points to 6.80. Total sales of stocks amounted to 1,355,000 shares. Bonds were strong. Total sales, par value, $1,970,000. U. S. bonds unchanged on call, with coupon 4s lower by 3-4 per cent on sales.

DRY GOODS MARKET.

New York, September 21. — Cotton goods were less active, but firm, today. Yarns also were firm. Raw silk was barely steady. Carpets were easier on a few well known lines. Jobbers did an active business.

BLACKMAILERS' CASE TO BE HARD FOUGHT

Federal Agents Determined to Wage Vigorous Prosecution.

Agree to Concentrate Upon Frank Crocker, One of the Gang, Who is Said to Have Made a Complete Confession.

Washington, Sept. 21.—Prosecution of the alleged blackmailers' gang, whose operations were uncovered by arrests in Chicago and elsewhere, will be followed up with renewed vigor as the result of the two days' conference here of special Department of Justice agents, which concluded this afternoon. All of the directing heads of the investigation left for their homes tonight.

Three developments stand out as the result of the conferences. These are a determination upon a more co-ordinated prosecution with Assistant Attorney General John C. Knox, at New York, in complete charge; a final decision to press the case against those accused of victimizing Mrs. Regina S. Klipper, in New York, and taking her under duress to Montreal; and a concentration upon Frank Crocker, as the leading witness for the government.

Crocker, the government investigators say, has made a complete confession of his part in the case of Mrs. Klipper. Government agents are carefully guarding his whereabouts as the result of threats made against him by his associates because he turned informer.

It is claimed at the department that the government had ample evidence in the Klipper case and in other cases that are to follow. The investigation, however, will be continued with a possibility of more arrests.

48,000 PERSONS VACCINATED AGAINST TYPHOID THIS YEAR

N. C. Board of Health Leads Those of All Other States in This Work.

(Special Star Correspondence).

Raleigh, N. C., Sept. 21.—The State Board of Health has just closed a summer campaign in nine counties for the vaccination of people against typhoid fever and finds that there were 48,000 people vaccinated from April 1 to September 18, compared with 52,000 vaccinated during the 1915 season. However, the work this season represents 18 per cent of the population of the counties in which the work was done, whereas the 1915 work procured the vaccination of only 13 per cent of the population of the counties in which that work was carried on.

The State Department of Health is proud of the record that shows 100,000 persons vaccinated during the past two seasons, this being the finest record of any state department of health in the United States.

The counties that had this vaccination work this season were Richmond, Bladen, Cabarrus, Alamance, Mecklenburg, Catawba, Union, Stanly, Scotland.

MUCH ACTIVITY AT CAMP

First Regiment to Come Through Wilmington on Way to Border.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Camp Glenn, N. C., Sept. 21.—The First and Second regiments are just as busy as they can be loading the wagon trains. Two troops of cavalry, the field hospital and ambulance corps are being loaded. The Atlantic Coast Line has cars placed for the First regiment, which will move via Wilmington. The Wilmington boys regret that the Second regiment cannot go that way.

All men have been called in from their furloughs. Some of them had just reached home when they were called back.

It is reported that Company A, Engineer corps, will remain at the camp for about six weeks longer.

The Second regiment will move in three sections. Orders have been issued that eight hospital men go with each battalion in case of accident or sickness while en route.

The men are being issued brand new olive drab uniforms and overcoats. It looks like they are to be at the border for the winter.

MARRIAGE AT BARNESVILLE

Miss Andrew Virginia Barnes Bride of Mr. H. Wilson Bullard.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Barnesville, S. C., Sept. 21.—A very quiet but attractive marriage was solemnized here when Miss Andrew Virginia Barnes became the bride of Mr. H. Wilson Bullard, of Charlotte. The ceremony was performed at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Noblin, Rev. Mr. Long, of Laurinburg, officiating. The ring ceremony was beautifully carried out, while Miss Ola Johnson, who presided at the piano, played softly Humoreque. The bride and groom left immediately on a northbound train bearing with them many wishes from their numerous friends for their success and happiness.

MOUNTED LADY MARSHALS

To Be Feature of "Ten-County" Fair at Kinston This Fall.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Kinston, N. C., Sept. 21.—An unique spectacle promised for this city on the 24th of October will be a squadron of mounted lady marshals for the opening parade of the Ten-county fair. The mayor of every town in the ten counties will be requested to name a marshal or marshalless, or, possibly more properly, a sponsor, for his community. A chief "marshalless" will have charge of the suffragette—lady marshal—section of the pageant and will prescribe the general style, but not the colors nor the frills or curlicues or whatever they are called, of the costumes that they are to be rigged up in.

CONGRESSMAN HEFLIN COMING

Alabama Statesman to Take Part in N. C. Democratic Campaign.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., Sept. 21.—Chairman Thomas D. Warren, of the State Democratic headquarters, has announced that Congressman Heflin, of Alabama, will take a hand in the campaign in this State, delivering his first speech under the auspices of the State headquarters at Asheville, on the night of September 30. Whatever other dates this distinguished campaigner and statesman is to have in this State will be announced later.

ONE CASE AT WARSAW

Four-Year-Old Child Has Infantile Paralysis, Doctors Say.

(Special Star Correspondence).

Warsaw, N. C., Sept. 21.—There is a case of infantile paralysis in town, the four-year-old daughter of Arch Williamson, an employe of the Pierce Manufacturing Company, being the case affected. It was suspected by Dr. J. M. Williams, the physician in charge, several days ago that the child's illness was due to infantile paralysis, but it was not known for a certainty until Wednesday, when Dr. Morris, of Mount Olive, being called for consultation, pronounced it a genuine case. The child has one limb affected, but it is not considered a severe case. As there is no town statute compelling quarantine against the disease, to date, much apprehension in regard to the spread of the disease is felt, and it is hoped that immediate steps will be taken by those who have the authority to do so, to rectify this deficiency.

KILLED IN MERRY-GO-ROUND

Well Known Member of Carnival Troop Buried at Wilson.

(Special Star Correspondence).

Wilson, N. C., Sept. 21.—The remains of William D. Bowen, for five years a member of a carnival making Virginia and the Carolinas, were interred at Maplewood cemetery this morning following impressive ceremonies. Bowen, known to his associates as "Slim," was without relatives so far as known and members of the company paid funeral expenses. The man was caught in the machinery of a merry-go-round Tuesday night and so terribly hurt that he later died at a local hospital. His remains were buried close to the body of A .D. Danton, who was killed at Greensboro while making a high dive in May, 1904. As a mark of affection the band today played a dirge over the grave of Danton following the services in respect to Bowen.

TOBACCO BARN BURNED

Beaufort Farmer Loses Lot of Fine Leaf—Washington Market.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Washington, N. C., Sept. 21.—Mr. C. H. Sterling, of this city, had the misfortune to have one of his tobacco barns at his farm near this city catch fire on Saturday night and burn to the ground with all its contents. The house was filled with a fine grade of leaf tobacco and was a total loss. Mr. Sterling stated that his loss was about $1,500 without insurance.

All of Washington's three tobacco farehouses are doing a fine business each day, with sales averaging from 40,000 to 100,000 pounds of tobacco sold daily. All the neighboring farmers are well pleased with the good prices that the weed is bringing, and much money is being placed in circulation in this vicinity.

FIRST WEEK IN DECEMBER

North Carolina Will Observe National Tuberculosis Week.

Raleigh, N. C., Sept. 21.—Tuberculosis week will be observed in North Carolina the week of December 3-10. This week has been set apart by the National Association for the study and prevention of tuberculosis, in which special attention shall be given this all-important subject in every state in the Union.

Through the Tuberculosis Bureau of this State, of which Dr. L. B. McBrayer, of the State Sanatorium, is at the head, efforts will be made to enlist the co-operation of the churches, the schools, and all anti-tuberculosis and public health organizations in bringing tuberculosis to the attention of the people.

TOBACCO FACTORY FOR WILSON?

Ground Being Looked Over With View to Locating Plant

(Special Star Correspondence).

Wilson, N. C., Sept. 21.—Following close upon the heels of an announcement from New York that the factories of the American Tobacco Company will move the New York plants to Richmond and Durham, a representative of tobacco interests has been in Wilson this week investigating this place as a location for a factory. Between thirty-five and forty million pounds of bright leaf tobacco mainly used in cigarette making are sold on this market every year, and manufacturers are regarding it as a suitable place for building a plant. While not confirmed there is a report on streets that option has already been taken on ground.

BRIEF IN CHARLESTON CASE

Filed by Corporation Commission With Interstate Commission

(Special Star Correspondence).

Raleigh, N. C., Sept. 21.—The Corporation Commission has just filed with the Interstate Commerce Commission its brief in the Charleston, S. C., freight rate case in which that city is seeking to have either the interstate freight rates out of that city into North Carolina reduced, or the North Carolina intrastate rates as applied by the Corporation Commission raised. Evidence was taken some weeks ago and the argument will be heard before a great while now. It is a contest much along the same line as the suits that were instituted some time ago by some Virginia cities.

NOT HOLDING FOR 20 CENTS

Farmers of Mt. Olive Section Glad to Sell for 15.

(Special Star Correspondence).

Mt. Olive, N. C., Sept. 21.—Talk of 20-cent cotton next spring has very little charm for farmers of this section. They prefer 15 and 15 1-2 cents per pound now to the chance of getting 20 cents a few months hence. Consequently, judging from the rapidity with which it is being sold here now, they evidently are bringing it to market about as fast as they get a bale ready.

And 75 to 80 cents per bushel for seed is also very tempting, and when you see a farmer with a bale of cotton on his wagon, if you look a little closer, you will generally find that he has the seed along also.

INCREASE OF WAGE GIVEN

Trouble Between Raleigh Iron Works and Workers Settled.

(Special Star Correspondence).

Raleigh, N. C., Sept. 21.—An agreement has been concluded between the receivers of the Raleigh Iron Works and a committee from the operatives in the munitions making department by which the wage rate increases from 42 to 44 cents per hour after September 30 for all work on present contracts and a rate of 50 cents per hour to apply for all work on new contracts.

Meeting Called to Organize State and National Republican Club

Wilmington, N. C.,
September 18, 1916.

TO THE QUALIFIED VOTERS OF NEW HANOVER COUNTY:—All qualified voters of New Hanover County who wish to support the Republican National Ticket, at the coming election, whether heretofore supporting the party or not, are respectfully urged to attend a meeting of citizens to be held at the Court House on Friday night, the 22nd, at 8 o'clock, for the purpose of organizing a Hughes Republican Club and electing the proper officers.

It is desired to inaugurate an active campaign in support of Republican policies, as set forth in the National and State Platforms, in order that both sides of the vital economic questions, which are to be decided at the next election, may be intelligently presented to the citizens of this County.

ALL VOTERS ARE CORDIALLY INVITED.

J. W. BROOKS,
Chairman Republican County Executive Committee.
JOS. J. LOUGHLIN,
Secretary.
